"Diane" Lashes Carolinas

Actor Defies Red Probers

Witnesses Balk At Communist Tie Questions

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee hammered at four more witnesses from the entertainment world today and again none would answer questions about Communist affiliations.

One of them, actor Elliott Sullivan, carefully avoided pleading the Fifth Amendment, however. He defied the committee to cite him for contempt.

Asked point blank if he was a Communist, Sullivan said: "You have no right to ask me that question. I want this straight for the record. I'm no conspirator and I have committed no crime."

Sullivan, Walter Clash

Six actors and an actress refused to answer committee questions yesterday.

When Chairman Francis Walter (D-Pa) said Sullivan was in contempt the 48-year-old actor shot back:

"You may have your own opinion, Mr. Walter, but I am firmly convinced that the Bill of Rights means what it says."

Committee Counsel Frank Tavenner asked if it was correct that Sullivan wasn't relying on the Fifth Amendment, which says a witness may not be compelled to testify against himself. Sullivan said:

"That's right. I don't want any inferences drawn. I'm not invoking my privilege."

The witnesses who did invoke the Fifth Amendment were Lee Hays, a portly folk singer who lives in Brooklyn; Mrs. Irma Jurist, a composer, and Mrs. Susan D'usseau.

Mistake, Artist Thought

Mrs. D'usseau said she was an artist and thought she had been called by mistake in this probe of alleged Communist influence in the entertainment industry.

Walter said the committee was charged with investigating communism in all fields. She immediately invoked the Fifth Amendment.

Mrs. Jurist told of writing musical backgrounds for two plays, "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Alive and Kicking," as well as for art films.

She answered questions jauntily until Tavenner asked if she had written music for the film, "Dollar Patriots."

She wilted visibly and answered almost inaudibly, "I respectfully submit that question is an encroachment on my constitutional rights, and I invoke the privilege of the Fifth Amendment.

IN WITNESS CHAIR — Martin Wolfson, 51, veteran Broadway actor and player in recent hits such as "Guys and Dolls" and "South Pacific," testifies before the House Un-American Activities subcommittee hearing on alleged Red activity in show business. Dulles Happy Over Soviet Army Slash

Secretary Asserts Inspection Key To Real Arms Control

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today welcomed the reported Soviet decision to trim the Red armed forces but said the United States still feels that effective inspection is the key to real international disarmament.

At present, he said, there is no real way to measure the effect of the 640,000-man cut the Soviets say they are making.

But he added: "So far as we are aware this would be the first significant reduction in the number of Soviet armed manpower in the past eight years."

Soviet Strength Mystery

He told his news conference the Soviets have given no information on the total strength of their forces and reserves or the weapons they have.

However, he said the cut would still leave Soviet standing forces "much larger than those of the United States" and the U.S.S.R. also will continue to have "very large organized reserves of men and equipment capable of being mobilized rapidly."

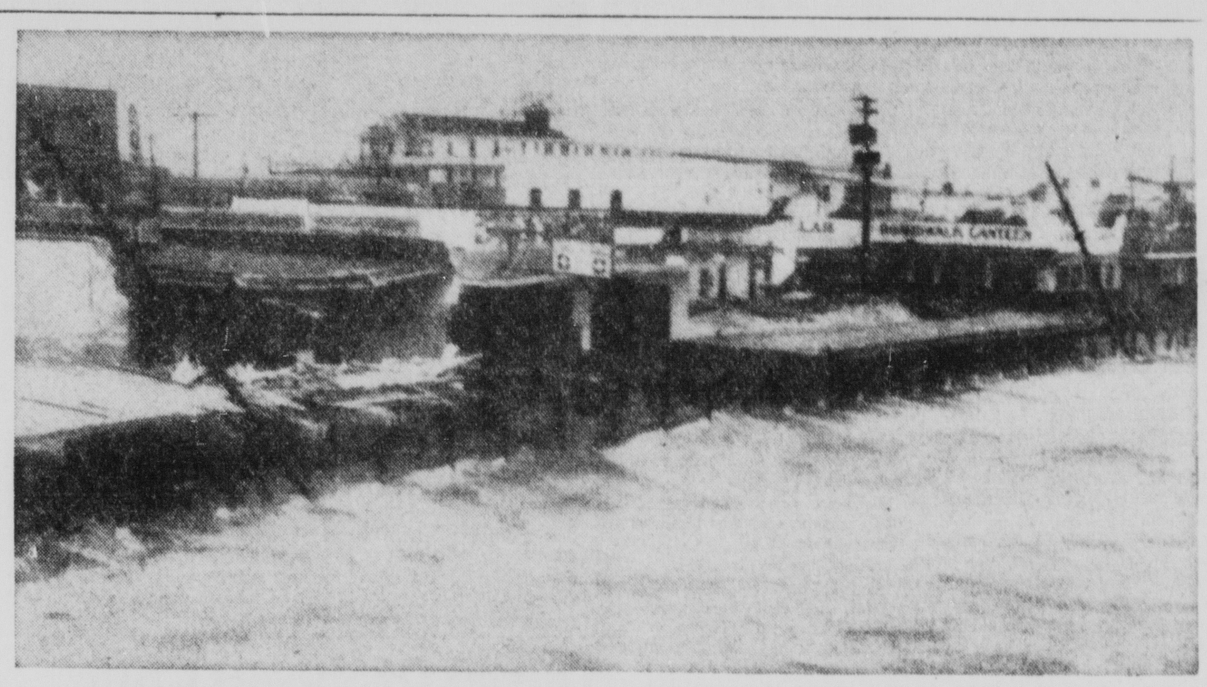

Dulles said the United States would first study the problem of setting up an inspection system before making any proposals on disarmament to the United Nations disarmament subcommittee.

Recognition Of Peace Aims

This is in line, he said, with the President's statement at Geneva, which, Dulles said, still is the basic statement of the United States position.

Dulles added that the Soviet decision on military reduction, if carried out, "will be in keeping with the general atmosphere of the Geneva conference."

He said it also seems to reflect Soviet recognition of the peaceful purposes of the West and of President Eisenhower's assurance the United States will never be a party to aggression.

"Diane" Moves In On North Carolina Coast

This large section of the boardwalk and amusement area at Carolina Beach, N. C., was badly damaged by Hurricane Connie last week and is threatened again as tides began to swell late yesterday. Hurricane Diane is moving in and is expected to hit the Carolina coast this morning with 100-mile-an-hour winds and heavy rain. (AP Photofax).

Center Of Big Storm Nears Myrtle Beach

Hurricane Packing Winds Of 100 MPH, Raises High Tides

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C., Aug. 16 (AP)—Hurricane Diane—the second tropical storm in a week—lashed the Carolinas' vacation playgrounds with increasing winds and high tides tonight.

With 100-mile-an-hour winds near her center, Diane moved steadily shoreward as beach communities all along the North Carolina and South Carolina coasts rushed final precautionary measures.

At 8 p.m. EST the center of the storm was placed 140 miles southeast of Myrtle Beach and was expected to come ashore tomorrow morning between Myrtle Beach and Wilmington, N. C. She was moving forward at about 11 miles an hour in a west northwest to northwest direction.

But gale to hurricane force winds extend far out from Diane's center and were scheduled to hit the coastline tonight. A wind of more than 75 miles an hour is hurricane force.

Beaches Evacuated

Beaches were being evacuated rapidly tonight in the threatened area.

Hurricane warnings were ordered hoisted north of Wilmington, N. C., to Cape Hatteras, N. C. Warnings were ordered lowered from Savannah, Ga., southward, but to remain up northward. A hurricane alert continued from Cape Hatteras over the Virginia Capes.

Meteorologists said, however, that Diane had lost fury slightly during the day. Winds at the center which this morning had been measured at 115 miles an hour had dropped before noon to 100 miles. A Navy hurricane hunter at mid-afternoon said the storm had decreased to a sustained velocity of about 85 miles an hour, with gusts to about 100.

"That is still a lot of wind, capable of doing damage," said a storm forecaster. "We will continue to warn against 100-mile winds for a time, at least."

Could Regain Old Strength

Diane, with the trickiness of hurricanes, still could regain her former strength before reaching land.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said: "I hope nobody will relax their vigilance because the storm still packs a punch. She's still just a little less dangerous, and tides won't be quite as high as previously predicted. She may weaken still further, and if she does we'll hurry the word along."

By early afternoon Myrtle Beach, where bathers basked in warm sunshine this morning, reported the pressure falling rapidly and gusts already up to 40 miles an hour. Wilmington reported 35 to 40 mile gusts. Exposed places expected 50 to 60 mile winds by nightfall.

Just where Diane would land her main strength was the question tonight along coast country raked less than a week ago by Hurricane Connie.

Ike Endorses Second Atomic Peace Meeting

GENEVA, Aug. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower, chief sponsor of the present atoms-for-peace conference, gave his blessing today to a second world meeting on this subject in 1957 or 1958.

This was announced by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, who indicated the United States probably would make a formal proposal to this effect in the U. N. General Assembly which opens Sept. 20.

Ike Gratified By Results

Strauss told a luncheon group, including members of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, the President was highly gratified by results of the current atoms-for-peace conference, which will end Saturday.

Strauss is head of the U. S. delegation to the conference. His announcement came as many leading delegates were voicing similar views. Dag Hammarskjold, U. N. secretary general, already was reported working on recommendations along this line for consideration by the General Assembly.

The first reaction was quick and favorable. A member of the Soviet delegation, Prof. G. A. Meierson, said "It's a good idea."

"Good News," Hinton Says

Sir Christopher Hinton, No. 2 man in the British delegation, also described the announcement as "good news," adding that the conference "has far exceeded the wildest hopes of those who organized it."

Hinton favored having the meeting in 1958 rather than 1957.

"After all," he said, "our people have to do some work some time."

Francis Perrin, French high commissioner for atomic energy, declared France's support and said either date would be satisfactory.

"This conference has been a very great success," Perrin added, "and it should be followed by continuing contacts among the scientists of all countries, including further conferences of this kind."

Eisenhower Off On Fishing Trip

The President left the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, with a friend, Aksel Nielsen, who owns the ranch where Eisenhower stays while fishing in near Fraser, Colo.

About a score of spectators were around the Doud home when the party left.

One of them shouted, "What did you shoot today, Ike, a 77?"

The President laughed and replied, "No, not that good."

The presidential party will be joined tomorrow by David Eisenhower who has been vacationing at a boys camp.

An earlier plan to fly the President to Granby, 14 miles from Fraser, in his new, light, two-engined plane was abandoned because of the mountain altitude.

Two Held In Car Death Inquiry

FREEHOLD, N. J., Aug. 16 (AP)—A judge refused to reduce bail today for two persons held in the investigation of an 81-year-old man's auto death, saying he wanted to see the report of the autopsy on the exhumed body of the victim.

Monmouth County Prosecutor Vincent Keuper said the body of Charles Hlavac, a wealthy New Yorker, will be exhumed tomorrow morning from the Grove Church Cemetery, Union City.

The man died in an accident on July 7, leaving a $100,000 estate to his housekeeper, Mrs. Carrie Spancell, 43, a Negro of New York, Keuper said.

Monmouth County Judge Elvin Simmill refused to reduce the $5,000 bail each for Mrs. Spancell, being held as a material witness, and for William Jackson, 54, also a New York Negro, held on a mandatory charge of causing death by auto. Keuper said Mrs. Spancell was in the car at the time of the fatal accident and Jackson was driving.

Airman, Wife Who Re-Wed To Fight For Son's Custody

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 16 (AP)—Airman Daniel C. Schmidt and the wife who says she remarried while he was a prisoner of the Chinese Communists squared off today for a court fight for custody of their 2½-year-old son.

Object of the tussle is Danny Jr., whose father has seen him only once—shortly after his return last Friday after 32 months in a prison camp. Danny's mother, auburn-haired Una Schmidt-Fine, 20, says she married lumberjack Alford Fine last September in the belief Schmidt was dead.

Schmidt has announced he will seek a divorce from Una. It was reported after a meeting of the couple last week end that the airman tried unsuccessfully to win back his wife. They married only five weeks before he went overseas.

Una's mother, Mrs. Walter Ferguson, formerly of Boise, Idaho, is taking Schmidt's side in the case. Her father, Ralph Howell of Bruneau, Idaho, is counseling Una.

Mrs. Ferguson and her second husband are staying at an undisclosed location with Schmidt. Mrs. Ferguson said she wanted to show Una that "her own flesh and blood" was in favor of seeing Danny, Jr., stay with his father.

Howard Welch, attorney for the 23-year-old Schmidt, said the fact the airman survived prison camp treatment proves his ability to care for his son.

"How can you question the ability of a man like that?" Welch asked. He said Schmidt only wants what's best for the child.

Welch said if Schmidt gains custody, the boy might live with Mrs. Ferguson on a farm in northern California.

Riots Break Out All Over India In Goa Protest

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 16 (AP)—Riots, strikes, and demonstrations broke out today in many parts of India to protest the fatal shooting of 15 or more Indians during yesterday's "peaceful invasion" of Portuguese India.

In Bombay, where the disorders reached a peak, police fired repeatedly on rioters demanding immediate military action and chanting "Nehru, leave Delhi and lead us to Goa."

Sixty persons were reported injured in today's demonstrations. About half the victims were hospitalized. They included at least a score of police. An official statement said 83 persons were arrested in 28 major incidents.

Armed With Sticks, Stones

The Bombay rioters — armed with sticks, stones and other missiles — voiced popular demand for merger of Portuguese India with the Indian Republic. They surged through the city and:

Besieged Bombay state ministers in their offices.

Broke through police lines and smashed into the evacuated Portuguese consulate, where they hoisted India's flag.

Squatted on railway tracks to prevent trains from running, reviving a "passive resistance" tactic of Mohandas K. Gandhi's day.

Taunted effigies of Portugal's Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

Beat up hawkers and other small traders to keep them from doing business.

Looting Breaks Out

The mobs learned police had orders to shoot but not to kill, and looting broke out in the afternoon.

Demonstrators surrounded foreign consulates, demanding that their flags be lowered to half staff in deference to those killed yesterday.

When Bombay state's education minister refused to remove his cap, a crowd smashed the windows of his car.

At nightfall several bonfires were started in which neckties and other European-style apparel seized by demonstrators from persons on the street were burned.

"Flying Grandma" Dies At Age Of 108

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Ann Freeman, a "Flying Grandmother" who made her first visit to a hospital as a patient just 10 weeks ago, died today at the age of 108.

She was hospitalized June 3 when she became excited over the arrival of relatives at her home, fell out of bed and broke her right hip.

Mrs. Freeman developed an interest in flying in 1927 after Charles Lindbergh made his New York to Paris solo flight. But not until 23 years later — 1950—did she get up enough nerve to take to the air.

She celebrated her 103rd and 104th birthdays in the air and was shown some of the tricks of handling a plane.

"Didn't hurt a bit," she said after an hour's flight at the age of 104.

Excuse Accepted

Governors Rapped For 'Namby-Pamby' Stand On Highways

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) criticized the nation's governors today for taking what he called an ambiguous, "namby-pamby" stand on highways at their Chicago conference last week.

Rep. Clark (D-Pa.) joined in, saying the annual governors' conference "passed the buck" in a resolution that ducked the question of financing road construction.

Clark and Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) both said they are working on new highway bills in hopes of getting something through a Congress which failed to act on the issue in the session recently closed. And Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) said he expects President Eisenhower to come up with a "new look" highway program for the next session.

No Call For Special Session

None of the four lawmakers, who gave their views in separate interviews, suggested a special session to act on highway legislation — something which the President has said is a possibility he hasn't dismissed. All but Bennett are members of Senate or House Public Works Committees, which handle highway legislation.

Bennett said he has had no direct word from the White House that Eisenhower will propose a revised highway program. But he said that "I expect him to come through with a specific, new proposal, perhaps a combination bond and tax plan."

The administration plan in the last session was for a vast interstate road system, to be built over a 10-year period out of proceeds of special bond issues. The Democratic-controlled Congress refused to go along.

"Objectives" Endorsed

At Chicago, the governors indorsed the "objectives" of the Eisenhower program but not the financing part. They called for a "greatly expanded" federal-state interstate highway system and said "far more" of the 2½ billion dollars a year in federal gasoline and other taxes on road users should be devoted to highways. At present, some 875 millions a year goes to roads.

The Senate passed last session a bill by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) that would set up an interstate highway program but put far more emphasis that Eisenhower did on urban, primary and farm-to-market roads. Gore favored boosting the federal gasoline tax to help pay the cost. But his bill was silent on this point, since tax measures must start in the House.

AEC Look At Idea Of Nuclear Storm Smasher Urged

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 16 (AP)—Sen. Kerr Scott (D-NC) said today he had asked the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission to fully explore the possibility of using nuclear energy as a means of "breaking up or otherwise dissipating hurricanes and similar storms."

Scott told a news conference he had written Lewis L. Strauss requesting his ideas on the subject. Copies of the letter were sent to members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

Students Shout Insults At Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 16 (AP)—Five hundred massed students screamed insults at President Peron's government today in the city of Eva Peron, 40 miles south of Buenos Aires. Police dispersed them with tear gas and arrested 41 rowdy demonstrators.

The disorder broke out in the wake of the government announcement yesterday that it had uncovered a plot to assassinate Peron and top army officers. Students were accused of being top leaders in the alleged plot.

Today's outbreak occurred as the students gathered for an apparent march on the center of Eva Peron.

News reports said police rushed in "energetically" when the demonstrators flouted orders to disperse and kept marching.

In Buenos Aires, small army detachments moved to reinforce regular federal police guards at the Pink House, government headquarters where Peron works, and at the president's garden-surrounded residence. However, Federal Police Chief Miguel Gamboa insisted the "tranquility of the population is absolute."

Stowaway Is "First" Russian "Tourist"

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—An airplane stowaway arrived today, describing himself as the first Russian "tourist" to come to the United States.

Stephan Strogoff, 29, was found in a luggage compartment of a Pan American Clipper soon after its arrival at Idlewild Airport from Paris.

Strogoff said he was a Russian by birth but considered himself a "world citizen."

Airport guards turned him over to immigration authorities.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—Union Carbide and Carbon Corp. announced today it will build a new 41-story, 40-million-dollar home office on Park Avenue close to Grand Central Terminal.

Reds' Proposals For Unity Parley Spurned By ROK

SEOUL, Wednesday, Aug. 17 (AP)—South Korea yesterday rejected Communist Chinese and North Korean proposals for unification talks as "the same old Communist propaganda line."

"Any discussions with the puppet regime in North Korea are out of the question until the Chinese Reds have withdrawn from this country," said Hongkee Karl, official government spokesman.

Premier Kim Il Sung of Communist North Korea Monday proposed a Far East conference on unification and direct talks between North and South Korea. He also proposed both sides renounce the use of force.

Peiping Backs Move

Chut Teh, vice chairman of Red China's government, supported Kim's proposals at the same rally in Pyongyang, North Korea's capital. The rally was on the 10th anniversary of the end of Japanese rule in Korea.

(In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference he welcomed the Communist statements on renouncing force as a slight augury for good. He said, however, that if the Reds want a settlement they should agree to Korean-wide elections supervised by the United Nations.)

Reds Balk At Elections

Karl declared in a statement that if the Communist north really wanted unification it would "get rid of the Chinese" and accept supervised elections. The Communists have never accepted supervised elections and Karl said "we do not expect them to do so now."

"North Korea is an occupied area," he charged. "Estimates of the number of Red Chinese troops there are as high as one million men. Those who speak in the name of the Pyongyang regime are . . . instruments of aliens.

"The Communists have made a great propaganda ballyhoo of their peace intentions. They can prove their sincerity by . . . taking the steps that would make it possible. We are waiting."

Arlene Dahl Ill

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 16 (AP) — Actress Arlene Dahl is suffering from a severe case of anemia, her doctor said today.

The actress was expected to enter a hospital today for treatment of what her physician called headaches and facial neuritis resulting from anemia.

Singer Robeson Is Refused Court Order For Passport

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Paul Robeson, the Negro baritone with a magnificent voice and a leftwing record, failed today to get a court order requiring the State Department to issue him a passport.

Robeson's passport was revoked in 1950 on the grounds his travels abroad would not be in the interest of the United States. He has been trying off and on since then to get it restored.

However, the State Department stipulated he first sign a non-Communist affidavit, something Robeson said today he would never do. He called the requirement "an invasion of every constitutional liberty that I have."

Robeson asked, through Atty. Leonard B. Boudin of New York, that the Federal District Court require the department to drop its demand and give him a passport.

However, Judge Burnita S. Matthews turned him down today. She said Robeson would have to exhaust his administrative remedies as set up in State Department procedures.

Attorney Boudin argued it was arbitrary and unfair to require some people to sign non-Communist affidavits, while issuing passports to hundreds of thousands of others without requiring affidavits of them.

U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover read to the court a department statement saying that Robeson had been quoted as saying Negroes would not fight for the United States against Russia. Rover called that a libel "against the members of his own race."

Flanagan Is Named To Maryland Senate

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Sherman E. Flanagan, Westminster insurance man and a Republican, was named to the State Senate today by Gov. McKeldin, replacing Sen. Stanford Hoff, newly named chairman of the Public Service Commission.

McKeldin said he made the appointment after learning the Carroll County Republican State Central Committee has endorsed Flanagan.

The new senator is a native of Frederick County but has lived in Carroll for more than 30 years. During this time, he has been a high school principal, member of the House of Delegates, a magistrate and insurance man.

U.S., Peiping Envoys Debate Captives' Fate

GENEVA, Aug. 16 (AP)—United States and Red Chinese ambassadors debated the fate of 41 Americans detained in Communist China for more than two hours today, but recessed without reporting progress.

The only announced result of the recessed without reporting progress.

The only announced result of the seventh meeting between U. Alexis Johnson, U.S. ambassador to Czechoslavakia, and Wang Ping - nan-Red China's envoy to Warsaw, was an agreement to meet again Thursday.

Ike Endorses Second Atomic Peace Meeting

GENEVA, Aug. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower, chief sponsor of the present atoms-for-peace conference, gave his blessing today to a second world meeting on this subject in 1957 or 1958.

Riots Break Out All Over India In Goa Protest

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 16 (AP)—Riots, strikes, and demonstrations broke out today in many parts of India to protest the fatal shooting of 15 or more Indians during yesterday's "peaceful invasion" of Portuguese India.

In Bombay, where the disorders reached a peak, police fired repeatedly on rioters demanding immediate military action and chanting "Nehru, leave Delhi and lead us to Goa."

Sixty persons were reported injured in today's demonstrations. About half the victims were hospitalized. They included at least a score of police. An official statement said 83 persons were arrested in 28 major incidents.

Armed With Sticks, Stones

The Bombay rioters — armed with sticks, stones and other missiles — voiced popular demand for merger of Portuguese India with the Indian Republic. They surged through the city and:

Besieged Bombay state ministers in their offices.

Broke through police lines and smashed into the evacuated Portuguese consulate, where they hoisted India's flag.

Squatted on railway tracks to prevent trains from running, reviving a "passive resistance" tactic of Mohandas K. Gandhi's day.

Taunted effigies of Portugal's Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

Beat up hawkers and other small traders to keep them from doing business.

Looting Breaks Out

The mobs learned police had orders to shoot but not to kill, and looting broke out in the afternoon.

Demonstrators surrounded foreign consulates, demanding that their flags be lowered to half staff in deference to those killed yesterday.

When Bombay state's education minister refused to remove his cap, a crowd smashed the windows of his car.

At nightfall several bonfires were started in which neckties and other European-style apparel seized by demonstrators from persons on the street were burned.

"Flying Grandma" Dies At Age Of 108

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Ann Freeman, a "Flying Grandmother" who made her first visit to a hospital as a patient just 10 weeks ago, died today at the age of 108.

She was hospitalized June 3 when she became excited over the arrival of relatives at her home, fell out of bed and broke her right hip.

Mrs. Freeman developed an interest in flying in 1927 after Charles Lindbergh made his New York to Paris solo flight. But not until 23 years later — 1950—did she get up enough nerve to take to the air.

She celebrated her 103rd and 104th birthdays in the air and was shown some of the tricks of handling a plane.

"Didn't hurt a bit," she said after an hour's flight at the age of 104.

Excuse Accepted

Governors Rapped For 'Namby-Pamby' Stand On Highways

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) criticized the nation's governors today for taking what he called an ambiguous, "namby-pamby" stand on highways at their Chicago conference last week.

Rep. Clark (D-Pa.) joined in, saying the annual governors' conference "passed the buck" in a resolution that ducked the question of financing road construction.

Clark and Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) both said they are working on new highway bills in hopes of getting something through a Congress which failed to act on the issue in the session recently closed. And Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) said he expects President Eisenhower to come up with a "new look" highway program for the next session.

No Call For Special Session

None of the four lawmakers, who gave their views in separate interviews, suggested a special session to act on highway legislation — something which the President has said is a possibility he hasn't dismissed. All but Bennett are members of Senate or House Public Works Committees, which handle highway legislation.

Bennett said he has had no direct word from the White House that Eisenhower will propose a revised highway program. But he said that "I expect him to come through with a specific, new proposal, perhaps a combination bond and tax plan."

The administration plan in the last session was for a vast interstate road system, to be built over a 10-year period out of proceeds of special bond issues. The Democratic-controlled Congress refused to go along.

"Objectives" Endorsed

At Chicago, the governors indorsed the "objectives" of the Eisenhower program but not the financing part. They called for a "greatly expanded" federal-state interstate highway system and said "far more" of the 2½ billion dollars a year in federal gasoline and other taxes on road users should be devoted to highways. At present, some 875 millions a year goes to roads.

The Senate passed last session a bill by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) that would set up an interstate highway program but put far more emphasis that Eisenhower did on urban, primary and farm-to-market roads. Gore favored boosting the federal gasoline tax to help pay the cost. But his bill was silent on this point, since tax measures must start in the House.

AEC Look At Idea Of Nuclear Storm Smasher Urged

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 16 (AP)—Sen. Kerr Scott (D-NC) said today he had asked the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission to fully explore the possibility of using nuclear energy as a means of "breaking up or otherwise dissipating hurricanes and similar storms."

Scott told a news conference he had written Lewis L. Strauss requesting his ideas on the subject. Copies of the letter were sent to members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

Students Shout Insults At Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 16 (AP)—Five hundred massed students screamed insults at President Peron's government today in the city of Eva Peron, 40 miles south of Buenos Aires. Police dispersed them with tear gas and arrested 41 rowdy demonstrators.

The disorder broke out in the wake of the government announcement yesterday that it had uncovered a plot to assassinate Peron and top army officers. Students were accused of being top leaders in the alleged plot.

Today's outbreak occurred as the students gathered for an apparent march on the center of Eva Peron.

News reports said police rushed in "energetically" when the demonstrators flouted orders to disperse and kept marching.

In Buenos Aires, small army detachments moved to reinforce regular federal police guards at the Pink House, government headquarters where Peron works, and at the president's garden-surrounded residence. However, Federal Police Chief Miguel Gamboa insisted the "tranquility of the population is absolute."

Stowaway Is "First" Russian "Tourist"

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—An airplane stowaway arrived today, describing himself as the first Russian "tourist" to come to the United States.

Stephan Strogoff, 29, was found in a luggage compartment of a Pan American Clipper soon after its arrival at Idlewild Airport from Paris.

Strogoff said he was a Russian by birth but considered himself a "world citizen."

Airport guards turned him over to immigration authorities.

$40,000,000 Office

Reds' Proposals For Unity Parley Spurned By ROK

SEOUL, Wednesday, Aug. 17 (AP)—South Korea yesterday rejected Communist Chinese and North Korean proposals for unification talks as "the same old Communist propaganda line."

"Any discussions with the puppet regime in North Korea are out of the question until the Chinese Reds have withdrawn from this country," said Hongkee Karl, official government spokesman.

Premier Kim Il Sung of Communist North Korea Monday proposed a Far East conference on unification and direct talks between North and South Korea. He also proposed both sides renounce the use of force.

Peiping Backs Move

Chut Teh, vice chairman of Red China's government, supported Kim's proposals at the same rally in Pyongyang, North Korea's capital. The rally was on the 10th anniversary of the end of Japanese rule in Korea.

(In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference he welcomed the Communist statements on renouncing force as a slight augury for good. He said, however, that if the Reds want a settlement they should agree to Korean-wide elections supervised by the United Nations.)

Reds Balk At Elections

Karl declared in a statement that if the Communist north really wanted unification it would "get rid of the Chinese" and accept supervised elections. The Communists have never accepted supervised elections and Karl said "we do not expect them to do so now."

"North Korea is an occupied area," he charged. "Estimates of the number of Red Chinese troops there are as high as one million men. Those who speak in the name of the Pyongyang regime are . . . instruments of aliens.

"The Communists have made a great propaganda ballyhoo of their peace intentions. They can prove their sincerity by . . . taking the steps that would make it possible. We are waiting."

Arlene Dahl Ill

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 16 (AP) — Actress Arlene Dahl is suffering from a severe case of anemia, her doctor said today.

The actress was expected to enter a hospital today for treatment of what her physician called headaches and facial neuritis resulting from anemia.

Singer Robeson Is Refused Court Order For Passport

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Paul Robeson, the Negro baritone with a magnificent voice and a leftwing record, failed today to get a court order requiring the State Department to issue him a passport.

Robeson's passport was revoked in 1950 on the grounds his travels abroad would not be in the interest of the United States. He has been trying off and on since then to get it restored.

However, the State Department stipulated he first sign a non-Communist affidavit, something Robeson said today he would never do. He called the requirement "an invasion of every constitutional liberty that I have."

Robeson asked, through Atty. Leonard B. Boudin of New York, that the Federal District Court require the department to drop its demand and give him a passport.

However, Judge Burnita S. Matthews turned him down today. She said Robeson would have to exhaust his administrative remedies as set up in State Department procedures.

Attorney Boudin argued it was arbitrary and unfair to require some people to sign non-Communist affidavits, while issuing passports to hundreds of thousands of others without requiring affidavits of them.

U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover read to the court a department statement saying that Robeson had been quoted as saying Negroes would not fight for the United States against Russia. Rover called that a libel "against the members of his own race."

Center Of Big Storm Nears Myrtle Beach

Hurricane Packing Winds Of 100 MPH, Raises High Tides

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C., Aug. 16 (AP)—Hurricane Diane—the second tropical storm in a week—lashed the Carolinas' vacation playgrounds with increasing winds and high tides tonight.

With 100-mile-an-hour winds near her center, Diane moved steadily shoreward as beach communities all along the North Carolina and South Carolina coasts rushed final precautionary measures.

At 8 p.m. EST the center of the storm was placed 140 miles southeast of Myrtle Beach and was expected to come ashore tomorrow morning between Myrtle Beach and Wilmington, N. C. She was moving forward at about 11 miles an hour in a west northwest to northwest direction.

But gale to hurricane force winds extend far out from Diane's center and were scheduled to hit the coastline tonight. A wind of more than 75 miles an hour is hurricane force.

Beaches Evacuated

Beaches were being evacuated rapidly tonight in the threatened area.

Hurricane warnings were ordered hoisted north of Wilmington, N. C., to Cape Hatteras, N. C. Warnings were ordered lowered from Savannah, Ga., southward, but to remain up northward. A hurricane alert continued from Cape Hatteras over the Virginia Capes.

Meteorologists said, however, that Diane had lost fury slightly during the day. Winds at the center which this morning had been measured at 115 miles an hour had dropped before noon to 100 miles. A Navy hurricane hunter at mid-afternoon said the storm had decreased to a sustained velocity of about 85 miles an hour, with gusts to about 100.

"That is still a lot of wind, capable of doing damage," said a storm forecaster. "We will continue to warn against 100-mile winds for a time, at least."

Could Regain Old Strength

Diane, with the trickiness of hurricanes, still could regain her former strength before reaching land.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said: "I hope nobody will relax their vigilance because the storm still packs a punch. She's still just a little less dangerous, and tides won't be quite as high as previously predicted. She may weaken still further, and if she does we'll hurry the word along."

By early afternoon Myrtle Beach, where bathers basked in warm sunshine this morning, reported the pressure falling rapidly and gusts already up to 40 miles an hour. Wilmington reported 35 to 40 mile gusts. Exposed places expected 50 to 60 mile winds by nightfall.

Just where Diane would land her main strength was the question tonight along coast country raked less than a week ago by Hurricane Connie.

Flanagan Is Named To Maryland Senate

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Sherman E. Flanagan, Westminster insurance man and a Republican, was named to the State Senate today by Gov. McKeldin, replacing Sen. Stanford Hoff, newly named chairman of the Public Service Commission.

McKeldin said he made the appointment after learning the Carroll County Republican State Central Committee has endorsed Flanagan.

The new senator is a native of Frederick County but has lived in Carroll for more than 30 years. During this time, he has been a high school principal, member of the House of Delegates, a magistrate and insurance man.

U.S., Peiping Envoys Debate Captives' Fate

The only announced result of the recessed without reporting progress.

The only announced result of the seventh meeting between U. Alexis Johnson, U.S. ambassador to Czechoslavakia, and Wang Ping - nan-Red China's envoy to Warsaw, was an agreement to meet again Thursday.

London IRA Hideout Yields Stolen Arms

Search For Raiders Continues; Fears Of New Attacks Spread

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Scotland Yard detectives broke into an Irish nationalist hideout in the heart of London today and seized the weapons stolen in a daring raid on a British army depot Saturday.

Detectives said they recovered 68 firearms and about 80,000 rounds of ammunition taken by the outlawed Irish Republican Army at an army depot in Berkshire.

But they said the nationwide hunt for the raiders still goes on.

Fear of new attacks spread through the British Isles.

Guards were doubled in the Liverpool area. The British army garrison's senior officer there said he had received a tip that another attack was planned.

Liverpool has a large Irish population sympathetic to the IRA's proclaimed objective of a united Ireland.

In Greenford, just outside London, police patrolled the army ordnance depot with dogs after a group of men, believed to be Irish, were reported approaching it.

In Dublin, the IRA gave its version of Saturday's raid in a statement from D. McDiarmada, IRA'S adjutant general. The statement was distributed to newspapers by messenger, the usual IRA procedure.

It said volunteers made up the daring band and all of them have been accounted for. An advance party seized and bound the guard and guard commander and a new sentry was posted at the main barrier — disguised in appropriate uniform, the IRA said.

The remainder of the raiding party then drove in, cleared the ammunition stores and a quantity of selected weapons and drove away. A rearguard of three stayed behind for three hours to insure that no alarm was raised immediately.

Joke Is Kept Alive

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Constance Robinson, of Victor Haven, known to friends as Connie, has been a butt of jokes since the hurricane of that name roared through here last week.

Things don't promise to get any better. Her middle name is Diane.

"Crazy Driver" Gets Jail Term

DETROIT, Aug. 16 (AP)—"Dig that crazy driver," said friends of Arnold L. Humphrey, 20, when they saw him driving down the street in his convertible.

But police didn't dig. When they arrested Humphrey yesterday on a charge of reckless driving, he was:

1. Driving while sitting on the driver's door with his feet dangling outside the car.
2. Holding a tree branch, with which he was working the gas pedal and brake.
3. Steering with his other hand.

He got 10 days in jail.

Preacher, Snake Victim, Buried

PINEVILLE, Ky., Aug. 16 (AP)—A mountain preacher was laid to rest in a little valley today amid eulogies, singing, guitar-picking, and snake-handling—the cause of his death.

Lee Valentine, 52, of Pineville, was bitten by a rattlesnake while holding services Saturday in Ft. Payne, Ala. He died 10 hours later, spurning medical aid to the last.

Like Kentucky, snake-handling is forbidden by law in Alabama. Authorities are investigating his death.

A vast throng turned out to pay its final tribute to the preacher, who had served for many years.

The services had been set for 2 p.m. at the little Pentecostal Church of God of Rella, about five miles from here. But the crowd made it necessary to hold the funeral at the cemetery. It was almost dark before the last of the crowd left.

28 Cops Shifted As N.Y. Opens Morals Probe

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP) — A transfer of 28 policemen from the Coney Island precinct was announced today as high police officials opened a departmental probe of a morals case involving cops and teen-age girls.

Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy said four top-ranking police officials were beginning separate investigations of police work in the area.

The announcement came on the heels of another morals case in the city, in which three men were charged with statutory rape of a 15-year-old runaway girl. Two of the men were college graduates described as from excellent families.

Kennedy said the job of the investigators is to determine "the adequacy of supervisory duties performed by all members of the force assigned to the area."

Nine policemen and 29 civilians were arrested in the Coney Island case last week after vice squad raiders picked up two 15-year-old runaway girls in a saloon. Both girls were pregnant.

Kennedy was asked whether the police department was planning an investigation of precincts in other parts of the city.

"We'll think of that in due course," answered the commissioner.

Kennedy said the 28 officers transferred from the Coney Island area include 12 commanding officers from the rank of sergeant to inspector, and 16 plainclothesmen.

He said, however, that "In all fairness, no prejudicial inference should be drawn. We are seeking facts from a departmental viewpoint. We want to get to the bottom of this matter to devise remedial measures."

Nationalist Landings Foiled, Peiping Says

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Red China tonight reported beating off two attempted sneak landings on the mainland by small forces of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Peiping Radio said 11 nationalists stationed on Quemoy Island tried at 2 a.m. to slip ashore under cover of darkness at Chungway, Fukien Province.

Communist coast guards, the broadcast said, killed one man and captured two others while the rest fled by sea.

Ouster Of Shivers Critic Blocked By Federal Judge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP) — A federal court intervened today to prevent the suspension of a postal worker who called Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas a "renegade."

U. S. District Judge Robert N. Wilkin granted a temporary injunction prohibiting the Civil Service Commission from executing an order suspending Curtis C. Wilson of Houston, Tex., for 90 days.

Wilson, a 29-year veteran of the Railway Mail Service, was accused of violating the Hatch Act after he attacked Shivers in a letter to the Houston Post. The Hatch Act forbids political activity by federal employes.

"It seems to the court that the ends of justice are best served if the order of suspension is stayed until final hearing of the case," Judge Wilkin said in issuing the injunction. Wilson's case may not be settled for months.

In his letter to the newspaper, written in June, 1954, Wilson not only called Shivers a renegade but likened him to a "Judas" leading the Democratic party into a Republican fold.

At the time Shivers was engaged in a Democratic primary contest which preceded his re-election as governor. Shivers refused to support Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, in 1952 and came out for President Eisenhower.

Judge Wilkin said there was a "real question" of whether Wilson's letter came within the political activities ban of the Hatch Act.

Defense Rests In Gallagher's Court-Martial

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)— Sgt. James C. Gallagher testified today that personal dislike influenced the testimony of a prosecution witness at his court-martial.

Gallagher, 23, a red-haired six-footer from Brooklyn, is charged with unpremeditated murder of three fellow Americans in a Red Chinese prison camp.

He also testified he was considered "about the worst guy" in the camp, because of false rumors spread about him.

The defense rested today in the 11-day court-martial and immediately afterward the prosecution began calling rebuttal witnesses.

Gallagher identified the witness whose testimony he called prejudiced as Sgt. L. C. Lloyd Pate of Augusta, Ga.

"Do you know of any reason why Pate would want to lie?" Gallagher was asked in cross-examination by Maj. James Jenkins.

"Not that I know of," he replied. "I know the man disliked me."

"He came up one day and accused me of murdering Jones," Gallagher said. "I told him to mind his own ... ... business."

Gallagher is accused of dragging ailing Cpl. John William Jones from a prison hut into the freezing weather outside and leaving him there to die.

In addition to the murder charge, Gallagher is accused of collaborating with his captors.

Gallagher was also questioned about a statement he had made to an Army interviewer this year that life in the prison camp was "a case of dog eat dog — everybody for themselves."

"What I mean was," he explained, "There were groups there —of four or five men — who stuck together and took care of each other. They said 'To hell with everybody else in the camp.'"

He added, however, "I wouldn't say everybody was out to cut each other's throat, as you seem to imply."

Integration Foes Plan Legal Move

CHEVY CHASE, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—Legal action to halt transfer of 32 Negro pupils to the Rollingwood Elementary School was promised today by a group of patrons of the school.

Attorney Andrew A. Lipscomb, 41, spokesman for the group, said the action would be filed against Montgomery County School Supt. Forbes H. Norris.

The group reached its decision last night after Norris outlined to a meeting of the Rollingwood group plans to transfer the Negroes from the Lyttonsville area, which is two school districts away.

Lipscomb said the action would involve Norris rather than the county school board "since the board appears to have abrogated its authority to Dr. Norris in this case."

Norris told the meeting his decision to transfer the Negroes to Rollingwood was based on several considerations, including the welfare of all the children and an effort to disturb as few children as possible by the transfer.

Truman Could Win In '56, Folsom Says

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 16 (AP)—Former President Harry Truman can have the Democratic presidential nomination again in 1956 if he wants it, says Alabama's Gov. James Folsom, who predicts if Truman runs he'll be elected.

And if Folsom is any judge of political strategy, Truman is a candidate no matter what party leaders say.

The governor has made the prediction several times recently. He repeated it at a news conference today, telling reporters:

"Just figure Mr. Truman is a candidate. And if he's a candidate he'll be nominated, and if he's nominated he'll be elected."

Beam Of Light Wins Boy $160

IMOLA, Italy, Aug. 16 (AP)—On sunny days 11-year-old Roberto Contavalli rigs up a mirror in his bedroom window and shoots a beam of light into the window of a room across the street.

Lots of kids have been spanked for that. But it helped Roberto win a gold medal and 100,000 lire ($160).

The medal and money were first prize in Italy's annual "Livio Tempesta" award today for the nation's kindest-hearted school child.

Roberto's beam of light cheers an old, retired Italian school teacher who is confined by illness to a sunless room.

Herbert Hoover Says Democrats' Charge 'Smear'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover today accused Democrats of "an infamous smear" against his commission on reorganization of government.

The Democratic charges that Hoover had "stacked" the commission's task forces in an effort to "turn back the clock" of government policy also brought replies from three Republican senators. They said the charges indicate the Democrats are "running against Hoover again."

Hoover himself said:

"Someone ignorant of the whole workings of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, of which I was chairman, has issued an infamous smear on the commission in the name of the Democratic National Committee."

"The statement implies that the commission was politically partisan, that I stacked the task forces, especially that on water power, and that the President does not approve of the work of the commission," Hoover added. He is in Palo Alto, Calif., but his statement was issued here through Neil McNeil, the commission's editorial director.

Hoover asserted the commission "Never divided upon political grounds," and that all members, including the Democrats, certified when the life of the commission expired this summer that "my work was fairly and patiently conducted."

Racketeer Genovese Loses Citizenship

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 16 (AP)—U. S. Attorney Raymond Del Tufo said today Vito Genovese, 57-year-old racketeer from Atlantic Highlands, has been stripped of his American citizenship.

Del Tufo said U. S. District Court Judge Phillip Forman, in an opinion filed at Trenton, revoked the citizenship on the grounds Genovese falsely denied he had ever been arrested or charged with any law violation.

Guards were doubled in the Liverpool area. The British army garrison's senior officer there said he had received a tip that another attack was planned.

Liverpool has a large Irish population sympathetic to the IRA's proclaimed objective of a united Ireland.

In Greenford, just outside London, police patrolled the army ordnance depot with dogs after a group of men, believed to be Irish, were reported approaching it.

In Dublin, the IRA gave its version of Saturday's raid in a statement from D. McDiarmada, IRA'S adjutant general. The statement was distributed to newspapers by messenger, the usual IRA procedure.

It said volunteers made up the daring band and all of them have been accounted for. An advance party seized and bound the guard and guard commander and a new sentry was posted at the main barrier — disguised in appropriate uniform, the IRA said.

The remainder of the raiding party then drove in, cleared the ammunition stores and a quantity of selected weapons and drove away. A rearguard of three stayed behind for three hours to insure that no alarm was raised immediately.

Joke Is Kept Alive

Things don't promise to get any better. Her middle name is Diane.

"Crazy Driver" Gets Jail Term

DETROIT, Aug. 16 (AP)—"Dig that crazy driver," said friends of Arnold L. Humphrey, 20, when they saw him driving down the street in his convertible.

But police didn't dig. When they arrested Humphrey yesterday on a charge of reckless driving, he was:

1. Driving while sitting on the driver's door with his feet dangling outside the car.
2. Holding a tree branch, with which he was working the gas pedal and brake.
3. Steering with his other hand.

He got 10 days in jail.

Preacher, Snake Victim, Buried

PINEVILLE, Ky., Aug. 16 (AP)—A mountain preacher was laid to rest in a little valley today amid eulogies, singing, guitar-picking, and snake-handling—the cause of his death.

Lee Valentine, 52, of Pineville, was bitten by a rattlesnake while holding services Saturday in Ft. Payne, Ala. He died 10 hours later, spurning medical aid to the last.

Like Kentucky, snake-handling is forbidden by law in Alabama. Authorities are investigating his death.

A vast throng turned out to pay its final tribute to the preacher, who had served for many years.

The services had been set for 2 p.m. at the little Pentecostal Church of God of Rella, about five miles from here. But the crowd made it necessary to hold the funeral at the cemetery. It was almost dark before the last of the crowd left.

28 Cops Shifted As N.Y. Opens Morals Probe

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP) — A transfer of 28 policemen from the Coney Island precinct was announced today as high police officials opened a departmental probe of a morals case involving cops and teen-age girls.

Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy said four top-ranking police officials were beginning separate investigations of police work in the area.

The announcement came on the heels of another morals case in the city, in which three men were charged with statutory rape of a 15-year-old runaway girl. Two of the men were college graduates described as from excellent families.

Kennedy said the job of the investigators is to determine "the adequacy of supervisory duties performed by all members of the force assigned to the area."

Nine policemen and 29 civilians were arrested in the Coney Island case last week after vice squad raiders picked up two 15-year-old runaway girls in a saloon. Both girls were pregnant.

Kennedy was asked whether the police department was planning an investigation of precincts in other parts of the city.

"We'll think of that in due course," answered the commissioner.

Kennedy said the 28 officers transferred from the Coney Island area include 12 commanding officers from the rank of sergeant to inspector, and 16 plainclothesmen.

He said, however, that "In all fairness, no prejudicial inference should be drawn. We are seeking facts from a departmental viewpoint. We want to get to the bottom of this matter to devise remedial measures."

Nationalist Landings Foiled, Peiping Says

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Red China tonight reported beating off two attempted sneak landings on the mainland by small forces of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Peiping Radio said 11 nationalists stationed on Quemoy Island tried at 2 a.m. to slip ashore under cover of darkness at Chungway, Fukien Province.

Communist coast guards, the broadcast said, killed one man and captured two others while the rest fled by sea.

Ouster Of Shivers Critic Blocked By Federal Judge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP) — A federal court intervened today to prevent the suspension of a postal worker who called Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas a "renegade."

U. S. District Judge Robert N. Wilkin granted a temporary injunction prohibiting the Civil Service Commission from executing an order suspending Curtis C. Wilson of Houston, Tex., for 90 days.

Wilson, a 29-year veteran of the Railway Mail Service, was accused of violating the Hatch Act after he attacked Shivers in a letter to the Houston Post. The Hatch Act forbids political activity by federal employes.

"It seems to the court that the ends of justice are best served if the order of suspension is stayed until final hearing of the case," Judge Wilkin said in issuing the injunction. Wilson's case may not be settled for months.

In his letter to the newspaper, written in June, 1954, Wilson not only called Shivers a renegade but likened him to a "Judas" leading the Democratic party into a Republican fold.

At the time Shivers was engaged in a Democratic primary contest which preceded his re-election as governor. Shivers refused to support Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, in 1952 and came out for President Eisenhower.

Judge Wilkin said there was a "real question" of whether Wilson's letter came within the political activities ban of the Hatch Act.

Defense Rests In Gallagher's Court-Martial

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)— Sgt. James C. Gallagher testified today that personal dislike influenced the testimony of a prosecution witness at his court-martial.

Gallagher, 23, a red-haired six-footer from Brooklyn, is charged with unpremeditated murder of three fellow Americans in a Red Chinese prison camp.

He also testified he was considered "about the worst guy" in the camp, because of false rumors spread about him.

The defense rested today in the 11-day court-martial and immediately afterward the prosecution began calling rebuttal witnesses.

Gallagher identified the witness whose testimony he called prejudiced as Sgt. L. C. Lloyd Pate of Augusta, Ga.

"Do you know of any reason why Pate would want to lie?" Gallagher was asked in cross-examination by Maj. James Jenkins.

"Not that I know of," he replied. "I know the man disliked me."

"He came up one day and accused me of murdering Jones," Gallagher said. "I told him to mind his own ... ... business."

Gallagher is accused of dragging ailing Cpl. John William Jones from a prison hut into the freezing weather outside and leaving him there to die.

In addition to the murder charge, Gallagher is accused of collaborating with his captors.

Gallagher was also questioned about a statement he had made to an Army interviewer this year that life in the prison camp was "a case of dog eat dog — everybody for themselves."

"What I mean was," he explained, "There were groups there —of four or five men — who stuck together and took care of each other. They said 'To hell with everybody else in the camp.'"

He added, however, "I wouldn't say everybody was out to cut each other's throat, as you seem to imply."

Integration Foes Plan Legal Move

CHEVY CHASE, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—Legal action to halt transfer of 32 Negro pupils to the Rollingwood Elementary School was promised today by a group of patrons of the school.

Attorney Andrew A. Lipscomb, 41, spokesman for the group, said the action would be filed against Montgomery County School Supt. Forbes H. Norris.

The group reached its decision last night after Norris outlined to a meeting of the Rollingwood group plans to transfer the Negroes from the Lyttonsville area, which is two school districts away.

Lipscomb said the action would involve Norris rather than the county school board "since the board appears to have abrogated its authority to Dr. Norris in this case."

Norris told the meeting his decision to transfer the Negroes to Rollingwood was based on several considerations, including the welfare of all the children and an effort to disturb as few children as possible by the transfer.

Truman Could Win In '56, Folsom Says

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 16 (AP)—Former President Harry Truman can have the Democratic presidential nomination again in 1956 if he wants it, says Alabama's Gov. James Folsom, who predicts if Truman runs he'll be elected.

And if Folsom is any judge of political strategy, Truman is a candidate no matter what party leaders say.

The governor has made the prediction several times recently. He repeated it at a news conference today, telling reporters:

"Just figure Mr. Truman is a candidate. And if he's a candidate he'll be nominated, and if he's nominated he'll be elected."

Beam Of Light Wins Boy $160

IMOLA, Italy, Aug. 16 (AP)—On sunny days 11-year-old Roberto Contavalli rigs up a mirror in his bedroom window and shoots a beam of light into the window of a room across the street.

Lots of kids have been spanked for that. But it helped Roberto win a gold medal and 100,000 lire ($160).

The medal and money were first prize in Italy's annual "Livio Tempesta" award today for the nation's kindest-hearted school child.

Roberto's beam of light cheers an old, retired Italian school teacher who is confined by illness to a sunless room.

Herbert Hoover Says Democrats' Charge 'Smear'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover today accused Democrats of "an infamous smear" against his commission on reorganization of government.

The Democratic charges that Hoover had "stacked" the commission's task forces in an effort to "turn back the clock" of government policy also brought replies from three Republican senators. They said the charges indicate the Democrats are "running against Hoover again."

Hoover himself said:

"Someone ignorant of the whole workings of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, of which I was chairman, has issued an infamous smear on the commission in the name of the Democratic National Committee."

"The statement implies that the commission was politically partisan, that I stacked the task forces, especially that on water power, and that the President does not approve of the work of the commission," Hoover added. He is in Palo Alto, Calif., but his statement was issued here through Neil McNeil, the commission's editorial director.

Hoover asserted the commission "Never divided upon political grounds," and that all members, including the Democrats, certified when the life of the commission expired this summer that "my work was fairly and patiently conducted."

Racketeer Genovese Loses Citizenship

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 16 (AP)—U. S. Attorney Raymond Del Tufo said today Vito Genovese, 57-year-old racketeer from Atlantic Highlands, has been stripped of his American citizenship.

Del Tufo said U. S. District Court Judge Phillip Forman, in an opinion filed at Trenton, revoked the citizenship on the grounds Genovese falsely denied he had ever been arrested or charged with any law violation.

Waterman Found Innocent Of Killing Oversized Fish

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—The Department of Tidewater Fisheries Commission lost today its first attempt to prosecute a fisherman who accidentally catches rockfish over 15 pounds and they die in his net.

Magistrate Robert Lawder found John Elburn of Rock Hall innocent of violating the law against killing oversized fish. State's Attorney Harry E. Dyer said the Tidewater Fisheries Commission planned to appeal the verdict to circuit court.

Elburn was charged by Inspector Joseph Davis of the Commission for letting 82 fish of more than 15 pounds, the legal limit, die in his nets Aug. 10.

According to the inspector, Elburn had staked out nets loaded with fish in the Susquehanna Flats. When he returned eight hours later, the big fish were dead.

Joseph Tydings, state delegate from Harford County, argued in defense of Elburn that the law was at fault and not the fisherman. Tydings said some big fish are bound to be killed accidentally. He said it was not the fishermen's intention either to catch or kill them.

The law in question states: "No person shall catch, or in any manner take or kill, sell, offer to buy or sell or expose for sale, or have in possession, any rock less than 11 inches in length, or weighing more than 15 pounds."

Hitherto, the Tidewater Fisheries Commission has not attempted to enforce the letter of the law on accidental catches made by commercial fishermen.

However, Robert Shores, chief enforcement officer, recently warned it will be against fishermen who stake out nets for unloading later. The fishermen are being told to empty them immediately, separating the illegal sizes and returning them to the water while still alive.

Martin Head Adopts "Star" In Court Fight

TOWSON, Md., Aug. 16 (AP) — George M. Bunker, president of Glenn L. Martin Co., has adopted a boy over whose custody his wife and her former husband had a sensational court fight last year.

Mrs. Sally Jesse Bunker was awarded custody of the eight-year-old boy Nov. 10 in a dispute with her former husband, retired Brig. Gen. Milton Wylie Arnold, vice president of the Air Transport Assn. of America. The couple had adopted the boy in 1947.

They were divorced Feb. 17, 1954 and both remarried.

Gen. Arnold filed a suit against Bunker asking one million dollars for alienation of affections. He later withdrew the suit.

Gen. Arnold argued his former wife waas unfit to have custody of the boy, accusing her of misconduct with several other men. She also said he had been unfaithful.

The boy's name was changed legally in Circuit Court here to Wylie MacDonald Bunker.

Soviets Make Use Of U. S. Atom Library

GENEVA, Aug. 16 (AP)—Soviet atomic scientists have been among the most regular users of the American technical library at the atoms-for-peace conference.

Miss Rita Liepina, who acts as interpreter for the Russian visitors, said members of the Soviet delegation had studied some of the 6,500 documents every day since the library opened Aug. 8.

"Some of them have been here from morning till night," she said, adding:

"They seem to be quite familiar with the material published up to 1953, and are mostly interested in whatever has come out since then."

Nearly 1,000 visitors have come to the U. S. technical library every day since the conference began.

Floral Tribute Paid To Will Rogers, Post

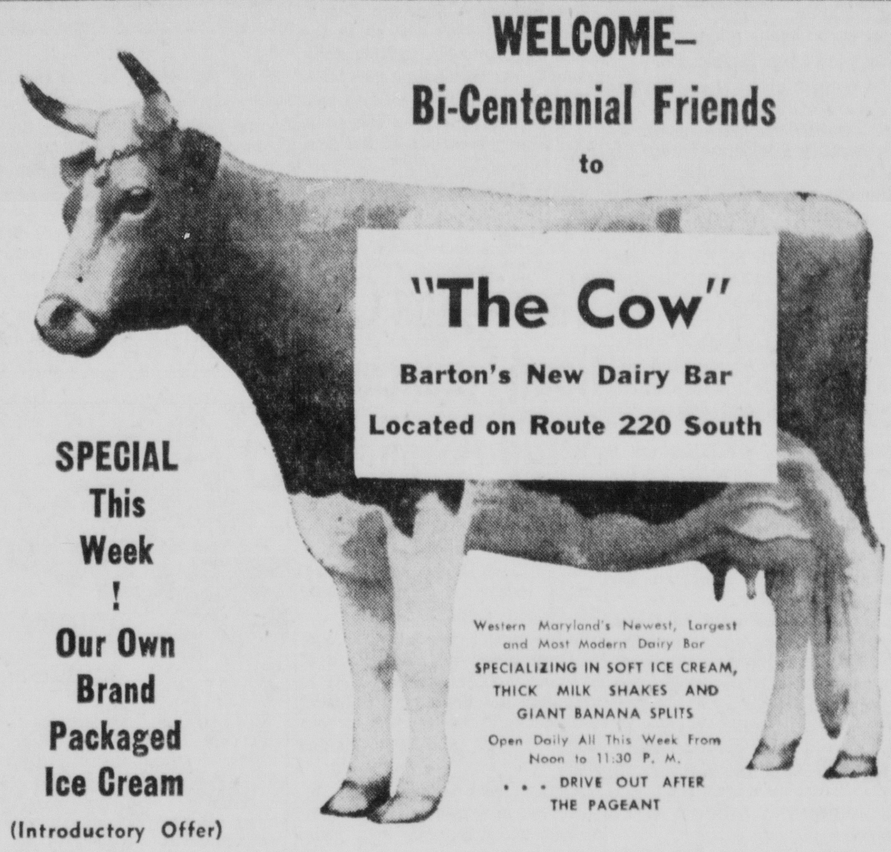

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 16 (AP)—A commercial transport plane dipped low over two monuments near barren Point Barrow yesterday and dropped a wreath of flowers to mark the 20th anniversary of the death of Will Rogers and Wiley Post.

The humorist and the flyer perished in a crash of Post's plane on a tundra lake on Aug. 15, 1935.

The plane dropped the wreath of forget-me-nots donated by Fairbanks floral shops, and radioed back they landed near the monuments shortly before an arctic fog rolled in from the sea to veil the scene.

One monument was erected by friends of Will Rogers from his home state of Oklahoma. The other was erected by Jesse Stubbs, a boyhood friend of Rogers, who visited the crash scene in 1952.

State Alerted For Wind, Rain

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Northeast storm warnings were hoisted on the Chesapeake Bay tonight as Marylanders got ready for more wind and rain but hoped they wouldn't see as much of Hurricane Diane as they did her sister, Connie.

As the fourth hurricane of the season neared the Carolinas coast late today and hurricane alerts were posted as far north as the Virginia Capes, Maryland was told by the Weather Bureau to expect increasing winds and rain tomorrow.

Easterly winds becoming 25 to 35 miles per hour with higher gusts were forecast for tomorrow.

Small boats were advised not to leave shore and Coast Guard, Red Cross and Civil Defense officials once again alerted their forces for possible action.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., just completing repairs to the last of 32,000 telephones knocked out by Hurricane Connie last weekend, continued its crewmen on alert status for Diane.

The Gas and Electric Co. also said it was alerted for the possible arrival of Diane in the Maryland area.

The latest hurricane slowed its forward speed slightly this afternoon and if it slows down more tonight, the wind and rain scheduled for Maryland tomorrow, may be delayed, the Weather Bureau said.

Showers fell today in some parts of Maryland and forecasters expect wind velocities to pick up as early as tonight in some sections.

Meanwhile, cool temperatures climbed into the 80's and humidity was particularly intense. In Baltimore, the humidity was 96 per cent this evening.

State Dedicates Rail Overpass

NORTH EAST, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—The State dedicated a new traffic overpass over the Pennsylvania Railroad here tonight, and Gov. McKeldin used the occasion to extol Maryland's road building achievements.

The new structure, the governor said, "is but one of many the State has built and is building to expedite traffic and eliminate dangerous railroad crossings."

"Maryland's program of grade crossing eliminations," the governor added, "is one of the high spots in her highway history and is credited throughout the nation with leadership and results in preventing accidents."

The governor reviewed the progress of work and the letting of contracts for road projects in the North East area and elsewhere, and said:

"All over the State the people are clamoring for these new roads and are impatient of any delay. With your help, I pledge you that nothing will stop the progress of our roads program and the completion on schedule of the many projects listed therein."

The overpass enabled the State Roads Commission to eliminate a dangerous grade crossing on Maryland 272 at North East.

The bridge is a three-span structure 178 feet long with a 30-foot roadway. Total cost of the overpass and its approach roads was $236,330.

Dentist's Body Sought

CLEAR SPRING, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—The Navy took up dragging operations in the Potomac River today for the body of Dr. Calvin Dirting, 36-year-old Martinsburg, W. Va., dentist.

Dr. Dirting and Saufley Fiddle were carried over a dam while fishing Saturday night. Fiddle swam to the Maryland shore, but Dirting was never sighted.

The boat was recovered 1½ miles below the dam.

Road Worker Killed

JESSUP, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—Ralph McKinney, 41-year-old Washington Negro working on a roads construction project on Maryland 175, was killed near here today when he fell beneath a dump truck.

Crash Victims' Identification Still Incomplete

FT. MEADE, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—Military authorities today still were trying to piece together full identification of two women killed and four other civilians critically injured in a head-on crash on Maryland 175 here yesterday.

Two Army officers less seriously injured were reported in satisfactory condition.

The six civilians involved apparently were from Washington.

The provost marshal's office reported one of the dead women had been identified by her landlord as Mrs. Dorothy Edelen, 24, of 927 M. St., N.W.

The other was listed as Dollie March, address unknown.

One of the men, Seth (James) Butler of 418 18th St., S. E., was identified by his wife. Ft. Meade's station hospital listed his condition as very poor, said he still was unconscious, and reported his injuries included extensive head and face injuries, both legs broken, left shoulder broken, and loss of the right eye.

Also in critical condition was a man listed as Wilmer R. Edelen of the M Street address, presumably Mrs. Edelen's husband.

Sam Harris, also listed as from M Street, was in critical condition with head injuries, a broken jaw and a broken pelvis.

A woman listed as Lulu Runk, address unknown, was in satisfactory condition though still semiconscious. She had a broken arm and head injuries.

The two Army officers were Lt. Col. John D. Underwood, 42, of Laurel and Maj. David Case, 39, of Gambrills, both assigned to the 89th Anti-aircraft Artillery at Ft. Meade.

Towns Deny Water Supply Contaminated

SALISBURY, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—Officials of three Eastern Shore communities gave assurance today that their water supply was uncontaminated "no matter what they are saying in Baltimore."

He referred to a report that state health engineers would check water supplies on the Shore for any possible contamination from flood waters.

At no time, said Cooper, did flood waters from the Wicomico River reach the city's wells.

Officials in Crisfield and Ocean City likewise said their water supply had undergone no apparent change.

President Of Firm Accused Of Arson

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 16 (AP) — Charles L. Lightner, 55, was put under $3,000 bail today for grand jury action on a charge he set fire to the Home Food Plan, Inc., of which he is president.

Lightner reconsidered an earlier request for preliminary hearing and waived it before Magistrate William Kreykenbohm.

The two story frame building housing Lightner's business of selling freezers and a food plan was destroyed by fire July 31.

Held On Rape Charge

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Bobby George Reed, 20-year-old Naval Academy steward, has been ordered held for grand jury action on a charge of raping a 15-year-old girl.

Visiting Jurist's Decision Upset

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—A Baltimore judge today acquitted three women who had been convicted earlier by a visiting jurist on charges of staging an indecent show last January at a night club on South Broadway.

The original verdict was returned March 1 by Chief Judge William R. Horney of Maryland's Second Judicial circuit. He came here from his home at Centreville to help dispose of a backlog of cases in the city courts.

The Baltimore Supreme Bench, made up of judges who sit in the city's major courts, subsequently granted the defendants a new trial.

The defense then agreed to submit the case simply on the basis of testimony recorded at the first trial.

Judge Herman M. Moser ruled today the original record called for acquittal.

Washington Co. Road Financial Setup Assailed

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 16 (AP) — "A complete breakdown of fiscal management" in the Washington County Roads Department was reported today by John J. Baker III, county auditor.

In his annual report to the County Commission he stated lack of a budgeting system has "led to irregular practices and financial irresponsibility on the part of both administrators and subordinates alike."

Appointments to the Roads Department are made by the Commission and it is under their jurisdiction.

Baker said the fiscal system which he criticized is the "result of disinterest of officials unaware of new problems in financial management created by increased volume of activity."

Accounting procedures, he said, are inadequate and "fail to provide either control or public information."

It is impossible, he continued, for him to "ascertain if funds were used in the manner authorized" or to "express an opinion on the balance sheet."

He picked out handling of checks as an example. Some dates recorded on the books varied as much as eight months from dates on the checks.

The result is a "concealment of the true state of affairs," Baker said.

The roads department expended $728,000 last year and $456,000 the year before.

Insurance Firms Assess 'Connie' Loss

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—The National Board of Fire Underwriters said today it had set in operation its catastrophe loss adjustment procedure in Maryland and other areas most badly damaged by Hurricane Connie.

The board said the capital stock fire insurance companies already have provided necessary additional facilities required for adjustment of losses to insured persons in the stricken areas.

It is too early, the board said, to give any accurate estimate of the number or amount of insured losses resulting from last Friday's hurricane in areas from Virginia to New York, including Maryland.

Duvall Hoedown To Honor Tawes

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 16 (AP) — Former State Sen. Frank M. Duvall will hold his annual watermelon party and political hoedown next Tuesday on a "Tawes for governor" theme.

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes will be the guest of honor, and numerous state and county Democratic officials have been invited as well as some select Republicans, including Gov. McKeldin.

Other dignitaries invited include former Govs. William Preston Lane Jr. and Herbert R. O'Conor, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore and Mayor Arthur G. Ellington of Annapolis.

Last year the party, which has become a political tradition, honored Dr. H. C. Byrd, the Democratic candidate for governor.

Duvall announced that this year's party, to be held at his home at St. Margaret's, would begin at 4:30 p.m.

SMITHSBURG, Md., Aug. 16 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin will come here Thursday to crown Nancy Marstellar of nearby Pennsylvania as National Peach Queen.

The noontime ceremonies are part of National Peach Week. They will be at the orchards operated by D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, Republican national committeeman for Maryland and chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Bug Invasion Story Gets Spray Offer From Florida

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn has received a letter from a West Palm Beach couple offering to send an insect spray to the family which was recently forced from home by a swarm of insects.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gilchrist, informed Chief Flynn that the "bug killer" was very effective and had the added attribute of remaining potent over a long period of time.

Health Department officials identified the insect as a member of the millipede or "thousand-legger" group. They are harmless to humans, it was reported, and feed on vegetable matter.

Gilchrist is a former resident of Cumberland, and he and his wife lived in Washington prior to moving to West Palm Beach. The story of the "invasion" of the Valley Street home was carried in the West Palm Beach Post Times as an Associated Press item under a Cumberland dateline.

Attorney Explains SS Setup

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday gave a resume of the situation as far as the proposed participation of the county in the federal Social Security program is concerned.

Getty said the matter is being handled by Norman Ramsey of the attorney general's office, who is checking the legal procedures. A division of Social Security has been set up within the Maryland State Employes Retirement System, Getty explained, and after an agreement is reached between th state and federal government on Social Security coverage the various political sub-divisions will apply for their jurisdiction.

A referendum of all county workers now in the State Retirement System would be necessary before the matter could be pushed any further. The county workers would have to be informed of the cost of the project, benefits they would receive and the effect on the retirement benefits under the state system.

Getty said there are two plans under discussion. One would have full Social Security coverage in addition to the state retirement program now in effect. The other plan would have the state retirement system cut down on the amount of its benefits and the Social Security coverage installed. The combination of the two would result in much greater benefits to the county workers than under only the state system, although not as much if full SS coverage and state retirement benefits were used.

Waiting for someone? Use the time to teach yourself a lesson in charm.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Next time you wait, in a restaurant, or perhaps in a railroad station or an airport, observe the strangers about you with special care.

You can teach yourself a lesson in charm right there. Without seeming to be curious at all, you can see so much. Many women pass by or wait with you. What is it that makes some of them stand out above the rest?

Is the girl with the eye-catching good looks actually a classic beauty, or does she create an appearance of beauty with less than a full set of nature-given qualifications? Is the best-dressed woman the one who wears the most expensive clothes, or the one who wears her clothes with the greatest distinction? What is it that nominates a few from the many for your list of the most attractive women in the room? I think you'll find that a radiant smile, a graceful walk, a lovely voice or the manner in which a simple courtesy is performed singles out the special ones unmistakably.

And that's why your waiting time observation is a good lesson. There's a lesson, of course, in living example of appealing traits you want to make your own. But more important, what you've seen emphasizes the fact that outstanding women are those who intelligently make the most of themselves. The most striking attributes of charm, and they can be learned.

Hearing Slated On Zone Law

The Mayor and Council will hold a public hearing Monday, September 12, at 10 a. m. on the proposed changes in zoning laws along the proposed industrial boulevard.

The changes are:

Beginning at Evitts Creek at the city line east of Cumberland and running directly west into South End, all land on the south side of the industrial boulevard to be zoned for industrial purposes to Thomas Street.

The section between the two lanes of the proposed boulevard from Ontario Street to Thomas Street be made a business district.

The north side of the boulevard to be zoned for business use from Evitts Creek to Thomas Street.

It was noted today that if 20 per cent of the residents in the area affected by any change protest it, an amendment to the ordinance setting up the change shall not be effective except by the favorable vote of four-fifths of the Mayor and Council.

The changes were recommended by the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission in reports to Council on June 7 and August 2.

River Jordan May Become Key To Economic Welfare

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector, Aug. 16 (AP)—The river Jordan, by American standards, might be called a creek. Yet it may become the key to economic welfare for much of this area.

The muddy Jordan, scene of Christ's baptism, is a main element in the "Johnston plan" for development of the kingdom of Jordan and nearby areas.

The plan gets its name from Eric Johnston. He has been pushing the plan for several years, under auspices of the U.S. government.

Johnston got an agreement in principle from Arab countries concerned last February, but well-informed sources say Israel disagreed on allocation of water. After months of quiet discussion in Washington, Johnston reportedly is ready to return for another round of talks in this region.

Countries involved are Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Israel. Because the Arab-Israeli war never has been ended, the first three states will not negotiate with Israel, thereby making Johnston's task more difficult. On the other hand, nothing can be done until all agree on the scheme, since all have water rights in the Jordan Valley system.

Israel and Jordan would get the greatest amounts of irrigation water under the scheme, with Syria and Lebanon getting limited amounts of irrigation and electric power.

The Jordan River, with its chief tributary, the Yarmuk, is called by some economists "the only resource" of the Jordan kingdom. The Jordan Valley cuts a deep gorge between the country's two plateaus. On the highlands immediately east and west of the gorge, enough rain falls in winter to permit limited agriculture. Farther east, the country trails off into desert. The greater part of Jordan's land area is waterless desert.

Jordan has a few phosphate and potash deposits. In the south, a small seaport opens to the Red Sea through the Gulf of Aqaba. Apart from these meager resources it is the Jordan waters or nothing for this country's one million population.

One-third of this population lives off United Nations relief rations. These are refugees who left their homes on the Israeli-occupied side of Palestine during the Arab-Israeli war of 1948.

An annual British cash subsidy to the Jordan government plus U.N. aid to refugees keeps the country afloat economically.

The Johnston plan would provide direct settlement for an estimated 110,000 persons in the Jordan Valley. Proponents say the country's agricultural production would increase tenfold. This would stimulate economic activity all over the country.

The plan involves construction of two storage reservoirs—one in the Yarmuk basin and the other in Lake Tiberias, the Biblical Sea of Galilee. Water from these reservoirs would be channeled into a canal running down the east side of the Jordan River, high enough to irrigate the plain east of the river.

The United States has offered to finance the scheme—provided both Israel and Arab states agree. But there are strong objections in both camps.

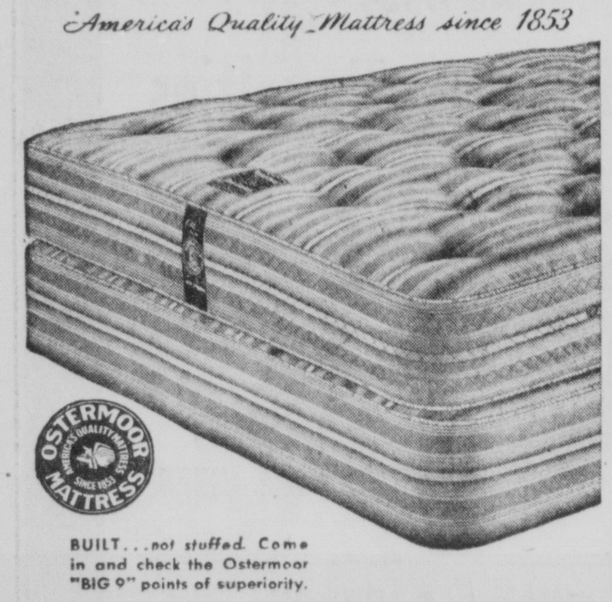

Although the Arabs agreed in principle last February, there still is a strong emotional feeling against the scheme among many Arabs who hate the idea of even indirect cooperation with Israel. The Lebanese Parliament recently recommended Lebanon reject further talks with Johnston.

The plan also contradicts Israeli plans to divert Jordan water to the southern Negev Desert, where they hope to settle their surplus population. Even after diverting their own Yarkon River waters to the Negev, the Israelis' only hope of irrigating the Negev's remaining 125,000 dry acres is the Jordan waters.

Jobs Go Begging In Labor-Short Great Britain

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—There's a job in booming Britain for any one able to wield a pen—or just strong enough to walk down the street.

The government's recent announcement that unemployment reached a postwar low of $84,929 in July (including hobos and gypsies) confirmed what has been obvious in newspapers' classified advertising.

Professors and plumbers, technicians and teachers, atomic scientists and advertising agents — all can find work. The housewife, eager for pin money, need not neglect her home. Many corporations are eager to give her part-time work for as little as three hours a day.

Here's what the classified columns looked like one day this week:

The Times: 1½ columns of official jobs open in universities or government bodies and five columns of situations vacant (help wanted).

The Daily Telegraph: six columns of help wanted.

News Chronicle: nearly four columns of help wanted.

Evening Standard: 9½ columns (more than 1-½ of its tabloid pages of help wanted.)

Manchester Guardian: four columns of public appointments and one page plus one column of help wanted.

In addition to pay undreamed of in prewar Britain, all sorts of gimmicks woo the workers.

The five-day week is almost universal. Sometimes it's a 38-hour work week. Saturday morning work is occasionally called for, almost apologetically, and then the blow usually is softened to "alternate Saturdays."

Facilities for cheap meals in office canteens rank high as laborbait. Smaller concerns, with no canteen of their own, offer prospective employes "meal vouchers" usable at neighborhood restaurants and cafes.

Since that time he has been a patient almost continuously at the Bethesda Hospital. In December he was retired from the Navy in the rank of lieutenant junior grade.

Oldest Brother Of Dalai Lama Coming To U. S.

TOKYO, Aug. 16 (AP) — The oldest brother of Tibet's spiritual ruler has been granted asylum in the United States from the Chinese Communists who now rule that remote mountainous land.

Tagster Denbrache, 32, who fled Tibet in 1950 when the Communists threatened his homeland, said yesterday in an interview he was returning to the United States to study.

Tagster (also sometimes transliterated as Takster Rimpoche) said he never hears from the second youngest of five brothers, the Dalai Lama.

The Dalai Lama was the spiritual and temporal ruler of Tibet until the Communists brought out the rival Panchen Lama in 1951. The two Lamas now appear to have about equal status under the Reds.

Also a Lama or a member of the Tibetan priesthood since he was seven, Tagster said he fled Tibet because "I wanted to be free."

Tagster said he was a priest in a town near the border of Red China when the Communists came in 1948. They forced him to stay there for two years.

"I was in poor health," he said. "The first chance I had, in 1950, I went to India and from there to the states for treatment."

In 1950 and 1951 Tagster was treated for a chest ailment and studied English at Fairfax and Arlington, Va., From January to September of 1952 he lived at Berkeley, Calif. There he recuperated and studied at the University of California library.

Then he sailed for Tokyo.

He said at that time he did not plan to return to the United States. Apparently despair that the Communists rule in Tibet ever would be shaken caused him to change his mind.

"I get homesick for Lhasa (the capital of Tibet) sometimes," he said.

"It is very difficult to say when I shall return. I don't want to go there under the Communists. I left because I was sick and because I wanted to be free, you see."

A U. S. spokesman confirmed that Tagster had been given asylum and said he would leave for the United States late in August.

The first written reference to coal was made by a Chinese who died some 2,000 years ago.

The United Nations, its agencies and programs cost the United States about 55 cents a year for each American.

Thomas Chippendale, who is commonly known as the "father of English furniture," was also the father of seventeen children.

Oldest Brother Of Dalai Lama Coming To U. S.

TOKYO, Aug. 16 (AP) — The oldest brother of Tibet's spiritual ruler has been granted asylum in the United States from the Chinese Communists who now rule that remote mountainous land.

"It is very difficult to say when I shall return. I don't want to go there under the Communists. I left because I was sick and because I wanted to be free, you see."

A U. S. spokesman confirmed that Tagster had been given asylum and said he would leave for the United States late in August.

The ever popular pet section brought cheers from the spectators.

The dogs, the most popular pets, ranged from muts to pedigreed collies and Afghans, but all were the pride and joy of their owners.

Romance was not forgotten, for the parade featured a diminutive bride and groom, and there were flowers in abundance in the line of march, including one flower arrangement pushed on a scooter.

Costumes ranged from story-book characters to one lad dressed as an all-day sucker.

forget that," the Congressman from Baltimore County added.

Two of Maryland's three Republican Congressmen were here yesterday for the celebration and were guests at an informal dinner sponsored by the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

The other was Congressman Edward T. Miller of the First Congressional District which is situated on the Eastern Shore. Miller too has a military background, having served in both World Wars. In the first he fought in the Argonne and in the second rose to the rank of colonel in the Army Reserve.

Rep. Miller offered the observation that Washington's early practical military training in and around Cumberland helped him to develop the ability that ultimately made him successful in the American Revolution.

Devereux, then a 38-year-old major, with about 400 Marines and 12 fighter planes, grimly held the isolated outpost of Wake Island for 15 days against overwhelming Japanese forces in December 1941.

Major Devereux had just finished his morning coffee on December 8 (Wake time) when he received a message that the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor. A few hours later his own island was attacked.

There was a second attack on December 11 and the final assault occurred December 23 when the enemy showed up with two carriers and numerous transports and warships. The ships were beached and about 800 enemy soldiers got ashore.

In losing, the Americans took a heavy toll of the invaders. They damaged two cruisers, sank an escort vessel and two destroyers and damaged two more destroyers, destroyed or damaged 72 aircraft and probably sank a submarine.

Devereux, who won recognition as the "Hero of Wake Island," estimated that 3,700 Japs were killed compared with 96 American dead. For "distinguished and heroic conduct in the line of his profession," he was awarded the Navy Cross, the highest Navy award of heroism next to the Medal of Honor.

A prisoner of war for four years, Devereux was promoted to lieutenant colonel and in 1946 advanced to colonel. After 25 years in the Marine Corps, having started as a private, he retired in 1948 as a brigadier general and with commendation for his "gallant leadership against overwhelming odds."

Upon retirement, he took up farming in Baltimore County. Then, in 1950, in his first try at politics, he won election to Congress from a Maryland district that previously had sent only two Republicans to Congress since the Civil War. He has twice been re-elected.

Property Is Sold

Albert W. Keight and Norah G. Keight have sold property on Braddock Road to William R. Carscaden and Doris C. Carscaden, according to a deed filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Seven Persons Are Hurt In Auto Mishaps

Student's Car Hits Embankment

Seven persons were injured and four of them were hospitalized in local and area highways accidents which occurred late Monday night.

Maryland State Police said five persons were injured in a head-on collision which occurred about 11:30 p. m. Monday about a mile east of Cumberland on Route 52.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital, according to police, were Joseph Coleman, 18, of 613 Ellwood Street, who suffered a fractured knee and abrasions, and Mrs. Blossom Crabtree, 39, of Fort Wayne, Ind., who suffered a laceration of her forehead and remained at the hospital for observation.

Also injured in the mishap were James S. Sheehe, 16, of 3 South Waverly Terrace, driver of one of the cars, who sustained a possible fractured right knee; Robert Wills Jr., 19, of Route 2, city, who suffered a broken nose; John Cage Jr., 17, of 54 Maple Street, who sustained a laceration of the forehead.

The accident occurred, police said, as Sheehe was driving east on Route 52. As he was negotiating a sharp right curve, he crossed the center of the highway and ran headon into a car driven by Leo E. Crabtree, of Fort Wayne.

Police said Sheehe will probably be charged with failing to stay on the right of the highway. Investigating officer was Tpr. L. D. Cook.

In the other mishap, two students attending West Virginia University at Morgantown were hospitalized with injuries sustained in an auto mishap which occurred late Monday night near Deer Park, while traveling toward Keyser.

Admitted to Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland, were Charles E. Clark, 22, of Keyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Estel Clark, 259 South Main Street, and Patrick Stanton, of Amstead, W. Va.

Clark was reported to have suffered a fractured right ankle and a slight head concussion as well as a cut below his left knee cap. His condition was reported as "good."

Stanton, a passenger in the car, suffered a fractured right ankle and cut over the right side of his head and back abrasions.

The mishap reportedly occurred when Clark missed an intersection near Deer Park and ran across the highway into an embankment.

A heavy fog was reported in the area of the accident.

Commissioners Plan Meeting

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday got a brief outline of the program for the fifth annual convention of the State Association of County Commissioners scheduled for September 2 and 3 at the George Washington Hotel in Ocean City.

John Schrieber, director of the Fiscal Research Bureau, will outline his program to be presented to the Legislative Council, requesting additional personnel for the bureau. The purpose is to enable his office to furnish to counties valuable information obtained from analysis of reports submitted in compliance with state uniform accounting methods.

The Maryland Conference on Community Development will conduct a panel discussion on the need of coordination between various counties and municipalities for the purpose of water supply and sewerage disposal.

An outline of the meeting of the County Engineers Association scheduled at the same hotel on the afternoon of September 2 also was received. Federal funds for roads will head the agenda.

B&O Rail Traffic Back To Normal After Derailment

Rail traffic on the B&O from Pittsburgh to Cumberland was reported just about back to normal last night following the derailment of 14 cars early yesterday morning at Indian Creek, seven and one-half miles west of Connellsville, Pa.

The cars of a westbound B&O Railroad ore train were derailed about 1:20 a. m. yesterday. A spokesman for the railroad last night said that Passenger Train 22 came into Cumberland from Pittsburgh about 3 p. m. EST and was a little late due to the clearing of the wreckage.

Earlier in the day passenger trains coming into Queen City Station here were running about three hours late. Trains were being rerouted over the PLE Railroad and Western Maryland tracks from Connellsville to Ohiopyle. Railroad officials here said they understood no one was injured in the derailment.

Degree Team Calls Rehearsal

The degree team of Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will hold a practice tonight at 8 o'clock for the initiation of the Bicentennial Class Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Both the practice session and the induction will be held at the Moose Home, Beall Street.

county and dumped on the Maryland side of the river.

Mayor Freeland said that in view of the petition from citizens opposing the landfill operation, the Mayor and Council lacks proper authority to proceed. He said the citizens have ruled against proper garbage disposal, and the only recourse the council now has is to await action by the West Virginia State Department of Health or some other authority.

It was noted yesterday that some haulers are still trucking garbage to the landfill operation, but since the operation is not manned and city employes are working elsewhere, the dumping is not controlled.

In the Cumberland area, where a sewage disposal plant is being constructed and an effort is being made at heavy expense to help clean up the Potomac River, considerable official interest is evidenced in the outcome of the Keyser situation, particularly in relation to the dumping of Keyser refuse into the Potomac.

Man Jailed On Larceny Count

A 22-year-old Luke man was sentenced to 30 days in Allegany County Jail yesterday after pleading guilty to a petty larceny charge at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

The man, Roy L. VanMeter, admitted having stolen four automobile tires and tubes from the St. George Motor Company while employed by that firm, and having later sold them to a service station from where they were recovered.

Detective Lt. James E. Van and Detective Thomas J. See preferred the charges against VanMeter at yesterday's hearing.

Magistrate Mason ordered VanMeter to make restitution of $13 to the service station where he sold the tires and tubes. Valued at approximately $70, the auto accessories were returned to the St. George Motor Company.

A Warwick, Va., man received a 90-day suspended sentence on another petty larceny hearing before Magistrate Mason yesterday.

Pleading guilty to the charge was Grant A. Finch, 38, who informed court his car had run out of gas and he was attempting to siphon gasoline from a vehicle owned by Howard Robinette of Flintstone when he was caught in the act by Robinette.

Finch was placed on parole for a year by Magistrate Mason and ordered to be of general good behavior.

Boy Is Injured When Hit By Car

An eight-year-old local boy, who apparently was waiting along Baltimore Street Monday afternoon for the float parade to pass by, darted from behind a parked bus into the path of an oncoming automobile and ended up in Sacred Heart Hospital for treatment.

The victim was James Tabler of 521 Beall Street, who suffered abrasions when struck by a car driven by James C. Saville, RFD 4, city. Officer Charles E. Cubbage, who investigated, said the car was traveling south on Baltimore Street when the mishap occurred about 2:35 p. m. Police said the driver apparently could not avoid hitting the boy.

Damage Suits Are Settled

Papers were filed in Circuit Court yesterday showing the settlement of two damage suits brought as the result of two youths being struck by a car on Route 40 last May 15 near Flintstone.

Donald L. Flowers, 18, brought suit through his father, Amos E. Flowers, against Robert L. and Wade Wallizer, driver and owner of the car involved. The suit was filed by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for the plaintiff. The settlement was listed at $450 for injuries the Flowers youth suffered.

The second suit was brought by Harry J. Helmick, 14, son of Mrs. Bertha Helmick, his mother, against the Wallizers. The Helmick youth was walking along the highway with the Flowers youth and was also injured. The settlement in this case was $400. Edward J. Ryan was counsel for the Helmicks.

A third damage suit was docketed by Roy D. Dean, RD 3, Terra Alta, and the Ohio Casualty Insurance Company, against Joseph M. and Elmer Raymond Winter.

Dean is seeking $1,000 damages for the loss of the use of his car, loss of a week's wages and damages to the vehicle. The declaration, filed by W. Earle Cobey, attorney for Dean and the insurance firm, states that Joseph M. Winter is the owner of a dump truck and Elmer Winter was operating the truck on January 18, 1955 on a private road near the tipple of the Rothey Coal Company near Swanton, when it skidded into Dean's sedan.

Dean charges the truck was operated recklessly and negligently and was caused to skid into his machine. He said he lost the use of his car and was unable to get to and from work for a week.

Bike Biggest Worry

ST. EDMUNDS, England, Aug. 16 (AP)—William Alexander, 81, pedaled off on a bicycle tour last week after a series of warmups in which he did 70 miles in one day.

"I wasn't worried bout myself, but my new bicycle," he explained. "My old one traveled 33,000 miles and I've been forced to get a new one."

"Correct Likeness" Of Davy Crockett Is Put On Display

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP)—A rare lithograph picturing Davy Crockett as a dandy in a store-brought suit was put on display at the public library yesterday two days before the legendary frontiersman's 169th birthday anniversary.

A scrawled note on the print, signed by Crockett himself, describes it as "the only correct likeness that has been made of me."

The picture of Davy in the garb he wore to Congress from 1827 through 1834 may disillusion some of his young present day admirers, who think of him in buckskin suit and coonskin cap.

The print shows him with long dark hair parted in the middle, wearing a dark cloth suit like a clergyman's, with a big stiff collar on his white shirt, and a big billowy tie.

The exhibit was loaned to the library for Davy's birthday by Franklin J. Meine, editor of the American Peoples Encyclopedia and an authority on American folk literature.

Deportees Protest

PARIS, Aug. 16 (AP)—The French National Federation of Deportees, which includes many Frenchmen confined in Nazi concentration camps during World War II, has protested to Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay against German plans to close the Dachau camp. They want Dachau preserved as evidence of "the monstrous crimes committed by the Nazis."

Principal Named At LaSalle High

Brother George Paulian, FSC, of West Catholic High School, Philadelphia, has been named principal of LaSalle High School here.

The announcement has been made by Brother G. Nicholas, acting principal, who said three other Christian Brothers will come to Cumberland to complete a faculty of nine this year.

Included in the new appointments is Brother Benedict of the teaching order's provincial headquarters at Elkins Park near Philadelphia. He will instruct English and social science classes.

Previous arrangements for Brother G. William and Brother E. Leo, both of Pittsburgh Central, to teach at LaSalle have been cancelled due to illness, Brother Nicholas said.

Holdover faculty members are Brother Nicholas, Brother E. William, Brother Thomas, Brother Charles and Brother Christopher.

Stationed at West Catholic for 26 years, Brother Paulian was vice principal at Ocean Rest Summer School, Ocean City, N. J., for 10 years.

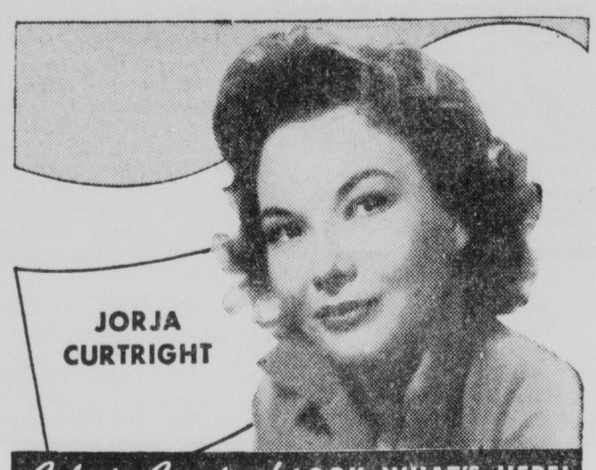

The enrollment for the 1955-56 school year will be approximately 260 boys, 35 more than the last scholastic year.

Freshmen will register September 6 and upper classmen will sign up the following day, September 7. Classes will start September 8.

Man Jailed On Larceny Count

A 22-year-old Luke man was sentenced to 30 days in Allegany County Jail yesterday after pleading guilty to a petty larceny charge at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

The man, Roy L. VanMeter, admitted having stolen four automobile tires and tubes from the St. George Motor Company while employed by that firm, and having later sold them to a service station from where they were recovered.

Detective Lt. James E. Van and Detective Thomas J. See preferred the charges against VanMeter at yesterday's hearing.

Magistrate Mason ordered VanMeter to make restitution of $13 to the service station where he sold the tires and tubes. Valued at approximately $70, the auto accessories were returned to the St. George Motor Company.

A Warwick, Va., man received a 90-day suspended sentence on another petty larceny hearing before Magistrate Mason yesterday.

Pleading guilty to the charge was Grant A. Finch, 38, who informed court his car had run out of gas and he was attempting to siphon gasoline from a vehicle owned by Howard Robinette of Flintstone when he was caught in the act by Robinette.

Finch was placed on parole for a year by Magistrate Mason and ordered to be of general good behavior.

Boy Is Injured When Hit By Car

An eight-year-old local boy, who apparently was waiting along Baltimore Street Monday afternoon for the float parade to pass by, darted from behind a parked bus into the path of an oncoming automobile and ended up in Sacred Heart Hospital for treatment.

The victim was James Tabler of 521 Beall Street, who suffered abrasions when struck by a car driven by James C. Saville, RFD 4, city. Officer Charles E. Cubbage, who investigated, said the car was traveling south on Baltimore Street when the mishap occurred about 2:35 p. m. Police said the driver apparently could not avoid hitting the boy.

Policy Of Smiles Is Paying Off

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany will be going to Moscow in a few weeks, by special invitation, but it is doubtful that this means progress toward the unification of Germany. The latest Soviet note on his visit makes that clear without actually saying so.

The note says that the talks in Moscow are to be about establishing improved relations in three areas—diplomatic, trade, and cultural—provided that their establishment "will not be made dependent on any preconditions by either side."

This is no surprise. At the Geneva Conference the Russians gave convincing indications that they are so afraid of atomic war that they will do anything to avoid it — provided they aren't asked to surrender any substantial advantages they now have.

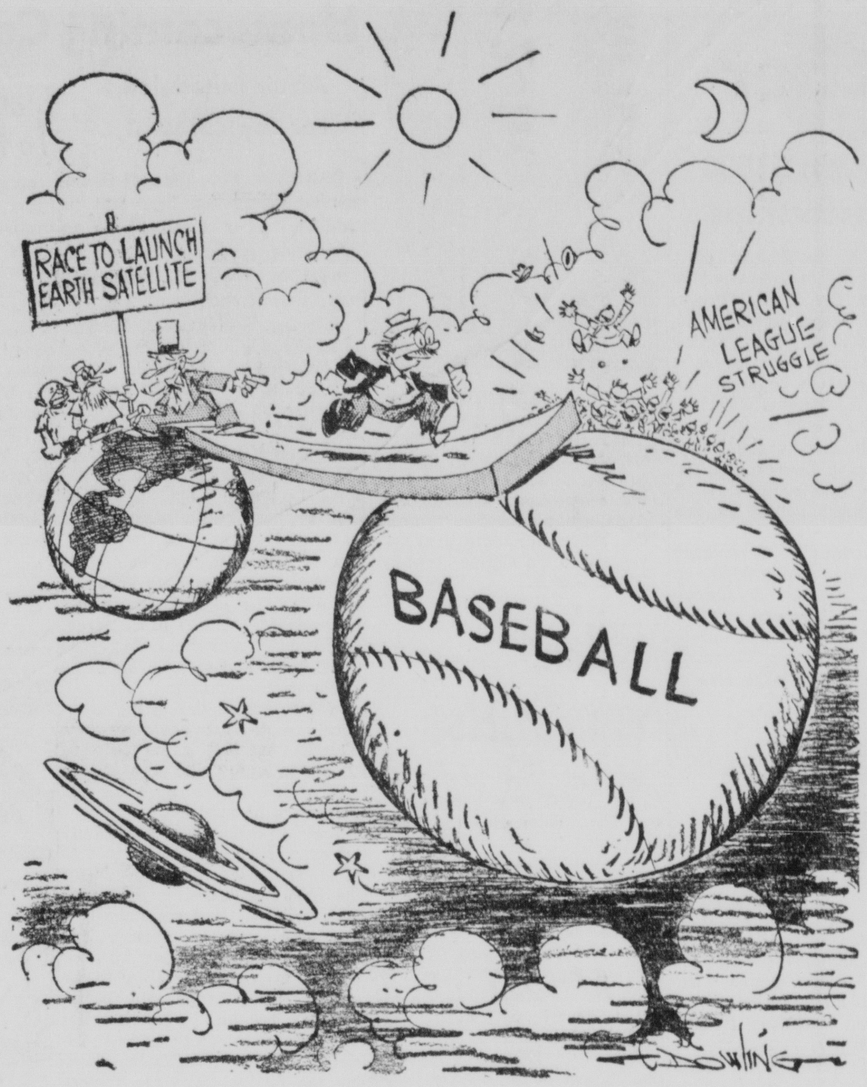

But, despite the fact that international tension was of their own making, they want to reduce it at little or no cost to themselves. The fact that East Germany is in effect a Soviet satellite is so great an advantage that they won't give it up without exacting a price heavier than the West will pay.

Mr. Adenauer realizes all this. He suspects that the Russians will try to play him off against the West to the disadvantage of both. He knows that Russia wants a "neutral" Germany—meaning a Germany at the mercy of the Soviet Union—as the price of any Soviet concessions.

But he is worried about the West. By meeting Russia half-way at Geneva, despite Soviet unwillingness to yield an inch on German unification, the West seemed to be giving its consent to the more or less permanent partition of Germany. All Germans are disturbed by this, and some of them are wondering whether they might not do better by dealing with Russia direct.

That is, the new policy of smiles is paying off: Moscow can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar. Adenauer won't be caught in any Russian web, but he is a very elderly fly, and his successor may be less wary. Meanwhile the West will need all its diplomatic skill to cope with the new Soviet diplomatic offensive.

It Looks Like We Beat The Russians

Big Army Of Backstage Lobbyists Makes Fourth Arm Of Government

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Today Drew Pearson writes another column in his series on the "Fourth Arm of Government," the lobbyists. Today's column is on the sugar lobby.)

WASHINGTON—During the closing days of Congress terrific pressure was put on the Senate to pass a bill changing the quotas on the imports of sugar into this country. The bill failed to pass in the mad rush to adjourn, but will be up for passage again in January, at which time the public should be aware of the terrific lobbying forces for and against this bill.

The Sugar Quota Act, passed under Roosevelt, fixes the amount of sugar which can enter the United States from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Peru, Mexico, the Virgin Islands and other off-shore areas. In order to give Cuba a stable economy and ensure enough sugar in time of war, by far the largest quota goes to Cuba. In return Cuba did not increase the price of sugar to us during the war.

The Sugar Quota Act does not expire for another year. But early this year, the domestic cane sugar growers of Louisiana, with the beet sugar growers of the Rocky Mountain states, demanded an immediate change with an increase in domestic quotas largely at the expense of Cuba's share of increased American consumption.

Significantly, Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana, chairman of the powerful Senate Agricultural Committee, introduced a bill readjusting these quotas. Senator Ellender, who comes from Louisiana, would naturally vote to help Louisiana can sugar growers. But the senator went further than the usual call of duty by pushing his bill vigorously. Simultaneously he put himself in the same "conflict of interest" position that forced Harold Talbott out as secretary of the Air Force.

Ellender's Conflict

In an earlier column (August 8), I pointed out that a great many congressmen were in exactly the same position as Talbott through the receipt of campaign contributions. Clarence Randall, head of Inland Steel, has since emphasized the same point in a speech in Chicago.

Senator Ellender got himself into a conflict of interest by buying four acres of choice land from the South Downs Suger Company, a concern whose president, Wallace Kemper, was a member of the sugar lobby and testified before Ellender for a change in sugar quotas.

Ellender bought this land for the extraordinarily cheap price of $10,000. The land lies across a bayou from the U. S. Sugar Experiment Station just outside Houma, the senator's home town. The land is potentially rich in oil and adjacent lots sell for around $4,000. Yet Ellender bought his land for $2,500 an acre from the company which appeared before him to demand a change in surgar quotas.

Immediately after the purchase, a neighboring businessman wrote the South Downs Sugar Company offering to buy another adjacent four acres for $2,500 an acre and was refused. In other words, Senator Ellender got a favored purchase from a domestic cane sugar company.

Senator Ellender, when questioned by this column, said he had bought the land in order to build a home for his son. He said he did not consider that he had got any favors from the sugar company nor was under any obligation to the sugar company.

Harold Talbott, when asked by Senator Ellender's colleague about contracts he got from defense companies, said the same thing.

Cuban Sugar Lobby

This is one phase of the sugar lobby story. Another pertains to Cuban sugar. In order to offset the cane sugar friends of Senator Ellender and his determination to re-adjust sugar quotas, the Cuban Sugar Mill Owners Association hired a battery of lawyer-lobbyists stretching from Boston to Miami. Its strategy was to pick high-class lawyers who were on good terms with key senators and congressmen dealing with the Sugar Quota Bill.

There was nothing illegal about this. Furthermore, Cuba deserves a high rating in the American sugar market. However, it is a reflection on the American legislative machinery that Cuba found it necessary to hire a battery of lawyers to get from Congress what she probably deserved anyway.

Heading the Cuban lawyer-lobby list was George Ball, brilliant Washington attorney who was one of Adlai Stevenson's top brain-trusters. His firm was reported to have been paid a fee of $50,000.

Representing the Cuba lobby in Miami was ex-Congressman William Lantaff of Florida, also an able lawyer, who happens to be close to Senator Smathers of Florida. Lantaff gave Smathers his first reception when he arrived in Washington as a senator and has sometimes filled speaking engagements for Smathers when he's been unable to get back to Florida.

Roll Call Of Lawyers

Also representing the Cuban sugar lobby in Miami were Paul R. Scott and George F. Gilleland, high-type attorneys who know the Florida senators and congressmen. In Boston the sugar lobby retained Casimir de Rham and Herbert P. Watkins; in San Francisco Dale I. Stoops; in New York Walter S. Rothschild, and in Louisville Edgar A. Zingman, of the firm of Wyatt, Grafton and Grafton, the leading law firm of Kentucky, whose senior partner, Wilson Wyatt, was mayor of Louisville and campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson.

The Cuban Sugar Council also retained Tom Blake, a former State Department official with a multitude of friends in Washington, and Sherlock Davis, formerly of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

All of these were careful to register, and strictly complied with the law. There was nothing wrong with what they did. Furthermore they did such a good job for their client that in the bill which almost passed Congress Cuba came out better than such sugar-growing areas as Puerto Rico, Peru, Mexico, which could not afford such a powerful battery of legal talent.

The tragedy is that legislation in the American Congress today is so heavily influenced by the fourth branch of government, the lobbyists.

McCarthyism Issue Brought Back To Life By ADA

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Just about the time that almost everybody has been in a mood to lay aside "McCarthyism" as a political issue, the Americans for Democratic Action —an organization of "left wing" radicals who have an influential part in managing the Democratic party and picking its presidential candidates — has brought the issue back to life.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman of the ADA, in a public address, claims credit for his organization in initiating the fight against Senator McCarthy, "both the man and his ism," and is exultant because, as he puts it, the Wisconsin senator is now "Washington's forgotten man." What the ADA chief says, however, in the rest of his speech indicates that he would be happy if the whole anti-Communist quest in Washington and the intensive search for security risks and disloyal employes in the government would also be forgotten. This is what most people who have been concerned about the anti-Communist crusade, and not necessarily with any of the personalities in Congress, have feared would happen this year. There is ample evidence that the Democratic party in Congress is very anxious to soft-pedal any further revelations concerning the Democratic administrations lest they furnish to the Republicans political ammunition for the stump.

There Is A Difference

There is, as Mr. Rauh says, a difference between the atmosphere of 1953 and 1955, which are the two years contrasted by him. There is even a difference between 1955 and 1954, when the Democratic party got control of Congress.

The difference, so far as the executive branch of the government is concerned, is that the Eisenhower administration is quietly getting rid of many persons who were employed by the previous administrations and who have been found to be "security risks." There has been no publicity as to individuals except in rare cases, but one of them operated for four years under the Truman administration and stole secrets from the confidential code office known as the National Security Agency, and turned them over to a European government. He is now in jail. Had there been such an efficient checking job done under the Truman administration, Klaus Fuchs might not have escaped detection.

ADA Fears Nixon

The ADA chairman speaks of 1953 and 1954 as the "Era of Oppenheimer" and others, but the Republicans — and particularly Vice President Nixon, if he campaigns again — probably would like nothing better than to set all the facts from the sworn testimony in the Oppenheimer case before the American voters next time if the Democrats want to make that an issue. The ADA fears Nixon. Some of its supporters are behind the effort to persuade President Eisenhower to drop him from the ticket next year. The "left wingers" have never forgiven Nixon for what he did as a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to expose Alger Hiss.

There is also in the speech by Mr. Rauh an attack on Attorney General Brownell who, the speaker asserts, "appears to have been relegated to political limbo" because in November 1953 he is supposed to have accused "a former president of the United States of 'knowingly' promoting a Soviet spy."

Maybe the ADA would like to have the case of the late Harry Dexter White relegated to "political limbo." But there are plenty of stump speakers who can still ask questions, and one of them will be why a former president of the United States, after having been warned by the head of the FBI and by officials in his own cabinet against letting the nomination of White as U.S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund remain on the Senate calendar, not only refused to withdraw it but, over a period of 14 months, subsequently wrote two separate letters to Harry Dexter White praising him for his service. When a House committee attempted to get Mr. Truman's testimony on these points, he refused to appear. Exactly what Attorney General Brownell said in his first speech on November 6, 1953, was this:

"Harry Dexter White was a Russian spy. He smuggled secret documents to Russian agents for transmission to Moscow. Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him to the most sensitive and important position he ever held in government service."

Forgot Diary Revelations

Mr. Rauh forgot that only a few weeks ago the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee under the chairmanship of Senator Eastland, Democrat, revealed from the diary of the then secretary of the treasury facts concerning the influential part played by White in governmental affairs, though the Treasury head himself knew nothing at the time about White's associations. Attorney General Brownell's statement is based on FBI files. Official statements summarizing the case now are a matter of public record. It certainly will not make a good political issue for the Democratic party, even if the ADA would like to revive the controversy.

The ADA chairman also complains in his speech because the House Committee on Un-American Activities has been permitted by the Eisenhower administration to examine income-tax returns in what Mr. Rauh describes as a "drive to uncover 'secret angels' of the Communist party." One wonders why the ADA spokesman is solicitous about the rights of "secret angels" and whether the ADA wants to proclaim a new doctrine—that the Bill of Rights supersedes or nullifies those clauses in the Constitution which authorize Congress and the executive to provide for the safety of the republic against foreign infiltration and possible treason.

Who Knows What?

It is only too usual for Americans to accept the doctrine that they do not know as much as Europeans. Knowledge is individual, not collective, and it is quite impossible to say that Englishmen generally know more about colonialism than Americans or Indians generally. An expert on this subject could well be a Swiss or a Finn. Actually, on this particular subject, there are no experts.

E. T. Weir, who manufactures steel but likes to dabble in statesmanship, wrote in a pamphlet:

". . . Because for centuries European countries have been so heavily dependent on foreign trade and have had colonial interests, the people of Europe have a greater knowledge of world conditions and are much more sensitive to them than is the case in the United States. I have a profound respect for the opinions of my European friends because I have found their analyses of situations borne out to a remarkable extent."

These friends are obviously mostly British, and if it is true that they know so much, why is it that, first, they got themselves into such a cramped position in the world since 1912; secondly, why have they lost their great empire; thirdly, why have they become dependent upon the United States; fourthly, why are they cringing before the Russian bear?

Somewhere along the line, between 1912 and today, their great knowledge and know-how in international relations failed them. As early as 1917, they misunderstood the Russian Revolution; as early as 1925, they misunderstood the Chinese Revolution; they failed to understand the situation in Iran and were rescued by Herbert Hoover Jr., an American.

Actually, Great Britain's difficulty is that the daring thinkers of policy of the period of empire-building, from Elizabeth I to Edward VII inclusive, have not been matched since Sir Edward Grey sent his country into World War I, which it is difficult not to accept as an error of judgment from the present vantage point. Today we know that every effort should have been made to localize the Balkan quarrel and the assassination of the archduke at Sarajevo.

Up to that time, Great Britain managed the balance of power in Europe with acumen, brilliance and success. Once Great Britain went to war, the balance was tipped and Europe fell into a chaos from which it has not yet recovered. It is true that Sir Anthony Eden has been attempting to restore Great Britain's role as the manipulator of the balance of power and it was undoubtedly his hope to be able to achieve that role at Geneva.

But he failed, first, because the United States is not interested in the balance of power in Europe but seeks peace in the world, and secondly, because Soviet Russia prefers India to be elevated in international relations, even to the position of Great Britain.

Professor Hans J. Morgenthau makes this point concerning the "balance of power":

"The balancer is in a position of 'splendid isolation.' It is isolated by its own choice; for, while the two scales of the balance must vie with each other to add its weight to theirs in order to gain the overweight necessary for success, it must refuse to enter into permanent ties with either side . . ."

Obviously, Great Britain is not in that position of splendid isolation. It is definitely allied to one side of the equation, namely, to the United States. It is not only allied but it remains economically and militarily dependent. As long as Great Britain remains in that position, it cannot play the additional role of the "balancer" in world affairs. If Khrushchev and Bulganin were as cruel to Eden at Geneva as Roosevelt was to Churchill at Yalta, it was because Great Britain had lost the key position in the balance of power which it had held for about three centuries.

To return to the question of who knows what, there is no evidence that Europeans generally and the British are better informed than we are at this particular moment in world history. Nor is there any evidence that their guesses are better than ours.

What the present situation does display is the appearance of Marxian morals in the world, totally different from Christian morals, and because of that violence of difference, understanding comes very slowly and without much satisfaction to either side. The world does not stand in balance, but its distortions are temporarily frozen.

An Eisenhower Portent

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The quiet doings of President Eisenhower's former appointments secretary, Thomas E. Stephens, constitute one of the most interesting indicators in the current political scene.

Stephens used to be secretary of the New York State Republican Committee in the Thomas E. Dewey era. In 1952, he was tapped for the Eisenhower campaign train. Post-election, he went to work at the White House; and he served on the President's personal staff until last February, when he ostensibly returned to private law practice as a member of the New York firm of Sherman, Sterling and Wright.

But Stephens, an able and astute man with considerable skill as a behind-the-scenes operator, did not abandon politics when he returned to private law practice. In recent months, he has in fact been engaged in a quiet operation commissioned by the President. He has been working to insure the selection of "Eisenhower-type" delegates to the Republican convention in 1956, and to promote the candidacies of men of the same sort in marginal congressional districts.

Clay Is Collaborator

The Stephens operation is neither formal nor elaborate. His only collaborator is the President's close friend and private adviser, General Lucius D. Clay. He has no special office or special staff. But his operation is not a purely private venture, either.

On the contrary, Stephens' liaison with the President's staff chief, Governor Sherman Adams, has been so close that he might almost be described as still under Governor Adams' command in this department of his activities. And where his work enters their fields, he has also kept in close touch with the chairman of the Republican National Committee, Representative Richard Simpson.

Promoting the choice of superior congressional candidates in close districts is a sensible thing to do, which national political organizations have seldom done. Usually, natural selection is left to operate, quite often with unfortunate results.

This is because intervening at the local level to get good men to stand for Congress requires a delicacy surpassing the delicacy of Agag. According to report, however, the Stephens operation has already shown success in this difficult field. And this can be important in the national election, for a good candidate, starting his run early, always makes a considerable difference in his district's voting totals for the entire ticket.

Centered In South

Seasoned students of national politics will be more interested, none the less, in the Stephens effort to insure the selection of "Eisenhower-type" delegates to the Republican National Convention. Although he has made contacts in certain other states, Stephens' work on the convention delegations has chiefly centered in the South. In this region, he has been working with the pro-Eisenhower Louisiana Republican leader, John Minor Wisdom.

Throughout the South, of course, the peculiar local mechanisms for producing Republican delegates have been traditionally controlled by the Right-wing group of the Republican party. Until the great upset over Texas at Chicago in 1952, Senator Robert A. Taft almost had a right to regard the Southern delegations as family appanages, descended to him from his father, who got them as a present from his brother Charles.

But now there is no question about whether the Southern delegations will be pro-Eisenhower. The most ardent ex-Taftites among them will be for Eisenhower all the way, only provided he is a candidate. Thus the questions to be answered by the Stephens operation among the convention delegates are, first, how far the President will succeed in reconstructing his party in his own image; and second, and only just possibly, whether the President will wholly control the Republican convention even if he is not a candidate to succeed himself.

Candidacy Expected

When this second question was mentioned to delegate-hunter Stephens, he replied somewhat explosively, "Well, I've never gone into that"—which of course he would not have done, since he expects the President to be a candidate.

All the same, the behind-the-scenes effort by a trusted former member of the President's staff is open to two interpretations. Most probably, it results from the instinctive drive that all Presidents invariably feel, to insure their own total control of their party conventions. Politicians, even in the White House, often work by Pavlov's rules. Although the whole 1956 convention will quite certainly be howling for Eisenhower, he probably hankers to make assurance doubly sure.

New Drug Offers Relief For Myasthenia Gravis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Myasthenia gravis is a baffling disease in which one or more muscles will become exhausted and refuse to function after a brief period of work. The muscles of the eyelids, extremities, voice box, and swallowing mechanism are most likely to be affected.

Drooping of the eyelids occurs as soon as fatigue sets in and they cannot be opened until rested thoroughly. For a variable period thereafter the lids act normally until weariness recurs, to start the cycle again. Weakness of the leg muscles has a somewhat similar effect upon walking and if the arms are involved, they are useless when overwhelmed by fatigue.

Rapid exhaustion of the muscles used in smiling may change the expression abruptly from a smile to a sneer. If the speech mechanism is affected, the voice suddenly becomes indistinct, slurred, or nasal. The disease takes on a more serious aspect when weakness extends to the muscles used in swallowing and respiration.

The victim has difficutl in getting solid food down the gullet when the muscles concerned with swallowing become weakened. He tends to select a semi-liquid diet because muscle power lasts longer when there is less chewing to do. As the malady progresses, eating becomes such a problem, the sufferer loses weight and strength.

Myasthenia gravis has all the earmarks of a neurological disturbance but the basic cause is chemical. Scientists have pinpointed the source of trouble in the spots where nerves connect with muscles. Acetylcholine usually is present at these junctions and the chemical acts as a spark between nerve stimulation and muscle contractior.

When it is lacking or dissipates too rapidly, the nerve impulse cannot pass to the muscles. As a result, these structures are unable to contract. No one knows the reason for this abnormality but, with continued research, it is reasonable to assume that the mystery will be unfolded.

Sometimes the symptoms of myasthenia gravis disappear for weeks or years, during which time the sufferer is in apparent good health. In others, the disease grows worse gradually. This is another little understood facet that needs investigation.

Various drugs have proved helpful in relieving symptoms but neostigmine is the most popular. The effects often are dramatic, changing a hopeless cripple to a productive worker. But the drug is not curative.

Mysuran is a newcomer and early reports are promising. It is more powerful, twice as long acting, and has fewer side effects than neostigmine.

Policy Of Smiles Is Paying Off

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany will be going to Moscow in a few weeks, by special invitation, but it is doubtful that this means progress toward the unification of Germany. The latest Soviet note on his visit makes that clear without actually saying so.

The note says that the talks in Moscow are to be about establishing improved relations in three areas—diplomatic, trade, and cultural—provided that their establishment "will not be made dependent on any preconditions by either side."

This is no surprise. At the Geneva Conference the Russians gave convincing indications that they are so afraid of atomic war that they will do anything to avoid it — provided they aren't asked to surrender any substantial advantages they now have.

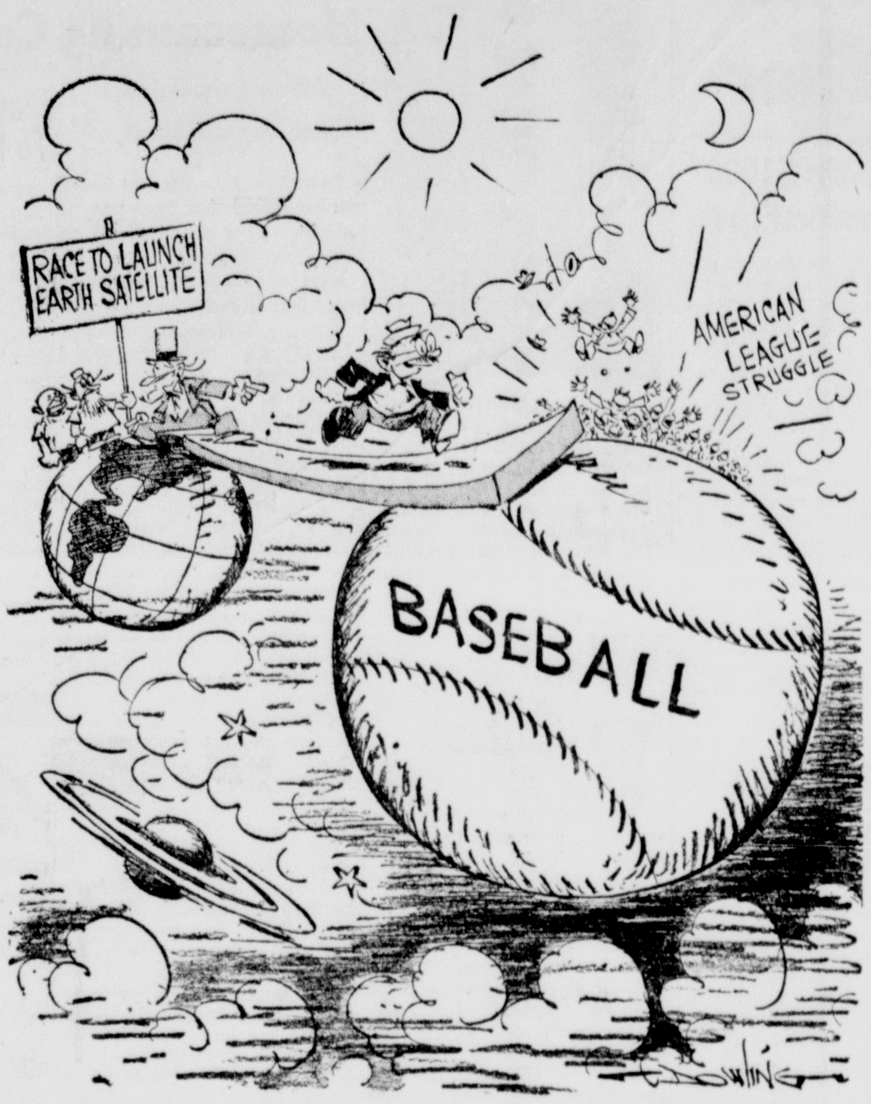

But, despite the fact that international tension was of their own making, they want to reduce it at little or no cost to themselves. The fact that East Germany is in effect a Soviet satellite is so great an advantage that they won't give it up without exacting a price heavier than the West will pay.

Mr. Adenauer realizes all this. He suspects that the Russians will try to play him off against the West to the disadvantage of both. He knows that Russia wants a "neutral" Germany—meaning a Germany at the mercy of the Soviet Union—as the price of any Soviet concessions.

But he is worried about the West. By meeting Russia half-way at Geneva, despite Soviet unwillingness to yield an inch on German unification, the West seemed to be giving its consent to the more or less permanent partition of Germany. All Germans are disturbed by this, and some of them are wondering whether they might not do better by dealing with Russia direct.

That is, the new policy of smiles is paying off: Moscow can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar. Adenauer won't be caught in any Russian web, but he is a very elderly fly, and his successor may be less wary. Meanwhile the West will need all its diplomatic skill to cope with the new Soviet diplomatic offensive.

Big Army Of Backstage Lobbyists Makes Fourth Arm Of Government

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Today Drew Pearson writes another column in his series on the "Fourth Arm of Government," the lobbyists. Today's column is on the sugar lobby.)

WASHINGTON—During the closing days of Congress terrific pressure was put on the Senate to pass a bill changing the quotas on the imports of sugar into this country. The bill failed to pass in the mad rush to adjourn, but will be up for passage again in January, at which time the public should be aware of the terrific lobbying forces for and against this bill.

The Sugar Quota Act, passed under Roosevelt, fixes the amount of sugar which can enter the United States from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Peru, Mexico, the Virgin Islands and other off-shore areas. In order to give Cuba a stable economy and ensure enough sugar in time of war, by far the largest quota goes to Cuba. In return Cuba did not increase the price of sugar to us during the war.

The Sugar Quota Act does not expire for another year. But early this year, the domestic cane sugar growers of Louisiana, with the beet sugar growers of the Rocky Mountain states, demanded an immediate change with an increase in domestic quotas largely at the expense of Cuba's share of increased American consumption.

Significantly, Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana, chairman of the powerful Senate Agricultural Committee, introduced a bill readjusting these quotas. Senator Ellender, who comes from Louisiana, would naturally vote to help Louisiana can sugar growers. But the senator went further than the usual call of duty by pushing his bill vigorously. Simultaneously he put himself in the same "conflict of interest" position that forced Harold Talbott out as secretary of the Air Force.

Ellender's Conflict

In an earlier column (August 8), I pointed out that a great many congressmen were in exactly the same position as Talbott through the receipt of campaign contributions. Clarence Randall, head of Inland Steel, has since emphasized the same point in a speech in Chicago.

Senator Ellender got himself into a conflict of interest by buying four acres of choice land from the South Downs Suger Company, a concern whose president, Wallace Kemper, was a member of the sugar lobby and testified before Ellender for a change in sugar quotas.

Ellender bought this land for the extraordinarily cheap price of $10,000. The land lies across a bayou from the U. S. Sugar Experiment Station just outside Houma, the senator's home town. The land is potentially rich in oil and adjacent lots sell for around $4,000. Yet Ellender bought his land for $2,500 an acre from the company which appeared before him to demand a change in surgar quotas.

Immediately after the purchase, a neighboring businessman wrote the South Downs Sugar Company offering to buy another adjacent four acres for $2,500 an acre and was refused. In other words, Senator Ellender got a favored purchase from a domestic cane sugar company.

Senator Ellender, when questioned by this column, said he had bought the land in order to build a home for his son. He said he did not consider that he had got any favors from the sugar company nor was under any obligation to the sugar company.

Harold Talbott, when asked by Senator Ellender's colleague about contracts he got from defense companies, said the same thing.

Cuban Sugar Lobby

This is one phase of the sugar lobby story. Another pertains to Cuban sugar. In order to offset the cane sugar friends of Senator Ellender and his determination to re-adjust sugar quotas, the Cuban Sugar Mill Owners Association hired a battery of lawyer-lobbyists stretching from Boston to Miami. Its strategy was to pick high-class lawyers who were on good terms with key senators and congressmen dealing with the Sugar Quota Bill.

There was nothing illegal about this. Furthermore, Cuba deserves a high rating in the American sugar market. However, it is a reflection on the American legislative machinery that Cuba found it necessary to hire a battery of lawyers to get from Congress what she probably deserved anyway.

Heading the Cuban lawyer-lobby list was George Ball, brilliant Washington attorney who was one of Adlai Stevenson's top brain-trusters. His firm was reported to have been paid a fee of $50,000.

Representing the Cuba lobby in Miami was ex-Congressman William Lantaff of Florida, also an able lawyer, who happens to be close to Senator Smathers of Florida. Lantaff gave Smathers his first reception when he arrived in Washington as a senator and has sometimes filled speaking engagements for Smathers when he's been unable to get back to Florida.

Roll Call Of Lawyers

Also representing the Cuban sugar lobby in Miami were Paul R. Scott and George F. Gilleland, high-type attorneys who know the Florida senators and congressmen. In Boston the sugar lobby retained Casimir de Rham and Herbert P. Watkins; in San Francisco Dale I. Stoops; in New York Walter S. Rothschild, and in Louisville Edgar A. Zingman, of the firm of Wyatt, Grafton and Grafton, the leading law firm of Kentucky, whose senior partner, Wilson Wyatt, was mayor of Louisville and campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson.

The Cuban Sugar Council also retained Tom Blake, a former State Department official with a multitude of friends in Washington, and Sherlock Davis, formerly of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

All of these were careful to register, and strictly complied with the law. There was nothing wrong with what they did. Furthermore they did such a good job for their client that in the bill which almost passed Congress Cuba came out better than such sugar-growing areas as Puerto Rico, Peru, Mexico, which could not afford such a powerful battery of legal talent.

The tragedy is that legislation in the American Congress today is so heavily influenced by the fourth branch of government, the lobbyists.

McCarthyism Issue Brought Back To Life By ADA

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Just about the time that almost everybody has been in a mood to lay aside "McCarthyism" as a political issue, the Americans for Democratic Action —an organization of "left wing" radicals who have an influential part in managing the Democratic party and picking its presidential candidates — has brought the issue back to life.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman of the ADA, in a public address, claims credit for his organization in initiating the fight against Senator McCarthy, "both the man and his ism," and is exultant because, as he puts it, the Wisconsin senator is now "Washington's forgotten man." What the ADA chief says, however, in the rest of his speech indicates that he would be happy if the whole anti-Communist quest in Washington and the intensive search for security risks and disloyal employes in the government would also be forgotten. This is what most people who have been concerned about the anti-Communist crusade, and not necessarily with any of the personalities in Congress, have feared would happen this year. There is ample evidence that the Democratic party in Congress is very anxious to soft-pedal any further revelations concerning the Democratic administrations lest they furnish to the Republicans political ammunition for the stump.

There Is A Difference

There is, as Mr. Rauh says, a difference between the atmosphere of 1953 and 1955, which are the two years contrasted by him. There is even a difference between 1955 and 1954, when the Democratic party got control of Congress.

The difference, so far as the executive branch of the government is concerned, is that the Eisenhower administration is quietly getting rid of many persons who were employed by the previous administrations and who have been found to be "security risks." There has been no publicity as to individuals except in rare cases, but one of them operated for four years under the Truman administration and stole secrets from the confidential code office known as the National Security Agency, and turned them over to a European government. He is now in jail. Had there been such an efficient checking job done under the Truman administration, Klaus Fuchs might not have escaped detection.

ADA Fears Nixon

The ADA chairman speaks of 1953 and 1954 as the "Era of Oppenheimer" and others, but the Republicans — and particularly Vice President Nixon, if he campaigns again — probably would like nothing better than to set all the facts from the sworn testimony in the Oppenheimer case before the American voters next time if the Democrats want to make that an issue. The ADA fears Nixon. Some of its supporters are behind the effort to persuade President Eisenhower to drop him from the ticket next year. The "left wingers" have never forgiven Nixon for what he did as a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to expose Alger Hiss.

There is also in the speech by Mr. Rauh an attack on Attorney General Brownell who, the speaker asserts, "appears to have been relegated to political limbo" because in November 1953 he is supposed to have accused "a former president of the United States of 'knowingly' promoting a Soviet spy."

Maybe the ADA would like to have the case of the late Harry Dexter White relegated to "political limbo." But there are plenty of stump speakers who can still ask questions, and one of them will be why a former president of the United States, after having been warned by the head of the FBI and by officials in his own cabinet against letting the nomination of White as U.S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund remain on the Senate calendar, not only refused to withdraw it but, over a period of 14 months, subsequently wrote two separate letters to Harry Dexter White praising him for his service. When a House committee attempted to get Mr. Truman's testimony on these points, he refused to appear. Exactly what Attorney General Brownell said in his first speech on November 6, 1953, was this:

"Harry Dexter White was a Russian spy. He smuggled secret documents to Russian agents for transmission to Moscow. Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him to the most sensitive and important position he ever held in government service."

Forgot Diary Revelations

Mr. Rauh forgot that only a few weeks ago the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee under the chairmanship of Senator Eastland, Democrat, revealed from the diary of the then secretary of the treasury facts concerning the influential part played by White in governmental affairs, though the Treasury head himself knew nothing at the time about White's associations. Attorney General Brownell's statement is based on FBI files. Official statements summarizing the case now are a matter of public record. It certainly will not make a good political issue for the Democratic party, even if the ADA would like to revive the controversy.

The ADA chairman also complains in his speech because the House Committee on Un-American Activities has been permitted by the Eisenhower administration to examine income-tax returns in what Mr. Rauh describes as a "drive to uncover 'secret angels' of the Communist party." One wonders why the ADA spokesman is solicitous about the rights of "secret angels" and whether the ADA wants to proclaim a new doctrine—that the Bill of Rights supersedes or nullifies those clauses in the Constitution which authorize Congress and the executive to provide for the safety of the republic against foreign infiltration and possible treason.

•These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Who Knows What?

It is only too usual for Americans to accept the doctrine that they do not know as much as Europeans. Knowledge is individual, not collective, and it is quite impossible to say that Englishmen generally know more about colonialism than Americans or Indians generally. An expert on this subject could well be a Swiss or a Finn. Actually, on this particular subject, there are no experts.

E. T. Weir, who manufactures steel but likes to dabble in statesmanship, wrote in a pamphlet:

". . . Because for centuries European countries have been so heavily dependent on foreign trade and have had colonial interests, the people of Europe have a greater knowledge of world conditions and are much more sensitive to them than is the case in the United States. I have a profound respect for the opinions of my European friends because I have found their analyses of situations borne out to a remarkable extent."

These friends are obviously mostly British, and if it is true that they know so much, why is it that, first, they got themselves into such a cramped position in the world since 1912; secondly, why have they lost their great empire; thirdly, why have they become dependent upon the United States; fourthly, why are they cringing before the Russian bear?

Somewhere along the line, between 1912 and today, their great knowledge and know-how in international relations failed them. As early as 1917, they misunderstood the Russian Revolution; as early as 1925, they misunderstood the Chinese Revolution; they failed to understand the situation in Iran and were rescued by Herbert Hoover Jr., an American.

Actually, Great Britain's difficulty is that the daring thinkers of policy of the period of empire-building, from Elizabeth I to Edward VII inclusive, have not been matched since Sir Edward Grey sent his country into World War I, which it is difficult not to accept as an error of judgment from the present vantage point. Today we know that every effort should have been made to localize the Balkan quarrel and the assassination of the archduke at Sarajevo.

Up to that time, Great Britain managed the balance of power in Europe with acumen, brilliance and success. Once Great Britain went to war, the balance was tipped and Europe fell into a chaos from which it has not yet recovered. It is true that Sir Anthony Eden has been attempting to restore Great Britain's role as the manipulator of the balance of power and it was undoubtedly his hope to be able to achieve that role at Geneva.

But he failed, first, because the United States is not interested in the balance of power in Europe but seeks peace in the world, and secondly, because Soviet Russia prefers India to be elevated in international relations, even to the position of Great Britain.

Professor Hans J. Morgenthau makes this point concerning the "balance of power":

"The balancer is in a position of 'splendid isolation.' It is isolated by its own choice; for, while the two scales of the balance must vie with each other to add its weight to theirs in order to gain the overweight necessary for success, it must refuse to enter into permanent ties with either side . . ."

Obviously, Great Britain is not in that position of splendid isolation. It is definitely allied to one side of the equation, namely, to the United States. It is not only allied but it remains economically and militarily dependent. As long as Great Britain remains in that position, it cannot play the additional role of the "balancer" in world affairs. If Khrushchev and Bulganin were as cruel to Eden at Geneva as Roosevelt was to Churchill at Yalta, it was because Great Britain had lost the key position in the balance of power which it had held for about three centuries.

To return to the question of who knows what, there is no evidence that Europeans generally and the British are better informed than we are at this particular moment in world history. Nor is there any evidence that their guesses are better than ours.

What the present situation does display is the appearance of Marxian morals in the world, totally different from Christian morals, and because of that violence of difference, understanding comes very slowly and without much satisfaction to either side. The world does not stand in balance, but its distortions are temporarily frozen.

New Drug Offers Relief For Myasthenia Gravis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Myasthenia gravis is a baffling disease in which one or more muscles will become exhausted and refuse to function after a brief period of work. The muscles of the eyelids, extremities, voice box, and swallowing mechanism are most likely to be affected.

Drooping of the eyelids occurs as soon as fatigue sets in and they cannot be opened until rested thoroughly. For a variable period thereafter the lids act normally until weariness recurs, to start the cycle again. Weakness of the leg muscles has a somewhat similar effect upon walking and if the arms are involved, they are useless when overwhelmed by fatigue.

Rapid exhaustion of the muscles used in smiling may change the expression abruptly from a smile to a sneer. If the speech mechanism is affected, the voice suddenly becomes indistinct, slurred, or nasal. The disease takes on a more serious aspect when weakness extends to the muscles used in swallowing and respiration.

The victim has difficutl in getting solid food down the gullet when the muscles concerned with swallowing become weakened. He tends to select a semi-liquid diet because muscle power lasts longer when there is less chewing to do. As the malady progresses, eating becomes such a problem, the sufferer loses weight and strength.

Myasthenia gravis has all the earmarks of a neurological disturbance but the basic cause is chemical. Scientists have pinpointed the source of trouble in the spots where nerves connect with muscles. Acetylcholine usually is present at these junctions and the chemical acts as a spark between nerve stimulation and muscle contractior.

When it is lacking or dissipates too rapidly, the nerve impulse cannot pass to the muscles. As a result, these structures are unable to contract. No one knows the reason for this abnormality but, with continued research, it is reasonable to assume that the mystery will be unfolded.

Sometimes the symptoms of myasthenia gravis disappear for weeks or years, during which time the sufferer is in apparent good health. In others, the disease grows worse gradually. This is another little understood facet that needs investigation.

Various drugs have proved helpful in relieving symptoms but neostigmine is the most popular. The effects often are dramatic, changing a hopeless cripple to a productive worker. But the drug is not curative.

Mysuran is a newcomer and early reports are promising. It is more powerful, twice as long acting, and has fewer side effects than neostigmine.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Deviled both by his conscience and his wife, old Mose shuffled up to his boss and admitted, "Mister Smith, I done stole this rope from you some time back, but now I wants to give it back." The boss proved a forgiving soul, and Mose went home feeling better every minute. "Mandy," he told his wife, "you know I feel so good 'bout telling Mister Smith 'bout the rope, I'm beginnin' to think that one day I'll tell him that when I stole it, there was a cow at the other end of it!"

Fellow who was caught driving through two consecutive red lights offered such a novel excuse that the judge dismissed the case. Motorist said he had been driving under the influence of women.

"I sure pleased my Pop today," boasted Buster. "Comin' home on the bus, I got up and offered my seat to a pretty girl. I'd been sittin' on Pop's lap."

New York Yankees Smother Red Sox At Boston, 13 To 6

Larsen, Mantle Clout Homers In 7-Run 3rd

Seven Players Hit For Circuit; 34,152 See Series Opener

BOSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The New York Yankees, flaunting their newly-recovered power, smothered the Boston Red Sox 13-6tonight with an 18-hit attack including jarring home runs by Mickey Mantle and pitcher Don Larsen in a seven-run third inning that all but clinched the game.

Bill Skowron and Hank Bauer also homered as the Yanks tightened their first place hold with their seventh straight win, but it was the rugged Bauer who made the decisive play of the game.

Tom Morgan relieved in the eighth inning to preserve Don Larsen's fourth consecutive triumph since being recalled from Denver late in July. Larsen had coasted while yielding two-run homers to Red Sox reliever Dick Brodowski in the fifth and Ted williams in the sixth, his 21st.

But after Jackie Jensen belted No. 20 in the eighth, Larsen hit Norm Zauchin with a pitch and Sammy White doubled for a second run. Then manager Casey Stengel waved in Morgan.

Bauer led off the third with a walk and advanced to third on Gil McDougald's sacrifice and loser Frank Sullivan's wild pitch.

Yogi Berra grounded to the mound and Sullivan whirled to trap Bauer off third. In the rundown Sullivan dropped the ball as Bauer bowled into him.

Bauer scored as Sully was hurled backward and sent sprawling. Berra reached second on the play. The capacity crowd of 34,152, sensing impending disaster, moaned.

Brooks To Play In Jersey City

BROOKLYN, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers will play seven of their National League games in Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium next year, club President Walter O'Malley announced late today.

O'Malley said that one game would be played with each National League rival and that an exhibition game with an American League team also would be scheduled there. He added that he already had permission from all National League clubs to make the change.

In announcing the split schedule, the first hint of which was a story in today's Jersey Journal, O'Malley said "we plan to play almost all of our home games at Ebbets Field in 1956 and 1957 but we will have to have a new stadium shortly thereafter."

Hoeft Blanks Indians, 7-0

Retires 21 In Row, Yields Two Singles

DETROIT, Aug. 16 (AP) — Billy Hoeft retired 21 successive batters in one stretch and allowed only two singles while pitching the Detroit Tigers to a jolting 7-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in Briggs Stadium tonight.

In hurling his fifth shutout of the season, Hoeft gave up a single to Bobby Avila in the first inning and another to Larry Doby in the second.

The slender southpaw then mowed down the Indians in order until Al Smith worked him for a pass with two out in the ninth.

The victory, before a crowd of 47,583, gave Hoeft a 12-6 record.

Bill Tuttle knocked in four runs and Frank House three as the Tigers, who had lost six straight games to Cleveland, dropped the Indians a game and a half behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

Redlegs Down Cubs, Take Fifth Place

CINCINNATI, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs took over fifth place in the National League tonight, ousting the Chicago Cubs from the spot with an early inning splurge that produced an 11-2 victory over the Bruins. The Reds scored all of their 11 runs in the first three innings on their first 11 hits but they were aided by two damaging Chicago errors.

Smokey Burgess hit his 17th home run of the season in the opening inning off Jim Davis and it was his blow that sent the Reds away to a fast start. It came after Johnny Temple had opened the Reds' half with a single.

Joe Black, although yielding nine hits to the Cubs, spaced them over six innings and had the Cubs shut out until the seventh when doubles by Dee Fondy and Gene Baker and a single by Jim King produced two runs.

Braves Lose, 3-2

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Bill Sarni's triple in the eighth inning drove home the winning run tonight and Harvey Haddix shut off a ninth inning threat by Milwaukee to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the Braves.

Haddix gained credit for his 10th victory against 11 defeats but had to pitch his way out of a jam in the Braves' ninth. Del Crandall singled with one out and then Haddix whipped a called third strike past pinch hitter Bob Roselli only to have Danny O'Connell send Crandall to third with a bloop single to center.

U. S. Davis Cup Team Is Named

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Davis Cup selection committee tonight named Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert, U. S. titleholder Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., and Gil Shea of Los Angeles to defend the trophy Australia at Forest Hills, N.Y. Aug. 26-28.

The committee, headed by Lawrence Baker, also invited Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex. and Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J. to practice with the team.

Trabert, Seixas and Richardson were members of the team which won the cup back from Australia last December. Trabert and Seixas did all of the playing, however.

Philadelphia Beats Pittsburgh, 12-3

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies backed up veteran Herman Wehmeier with a lusty 15-hit attack tonight and he coasted to a 12-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, a team which rarely gives him trouble.

Jim Greengrass led the Philly attack with four hits, including two doubles.

Wehmeier gave up seven hits as he chalked up his ninth victory against nine defeats. Five of the victories were over the Pirates. At the start of the season Wehmeier had an 18-7 lifetime record against the Pirates.

The Phillies got to starter Bob Friend for three runs in the first inning, two of them on a triple by Del Ennis. They tallied two runs in the fifth, two more in the sixth, four in the eighth and pushed across another marker in the ninth.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(INS)—Somewhere about mid-season in 1927 we swung over from the New York Giants, who were going nowhere, to the pennant-bound New York Yanks, who were about to make a swing around the circuit.

We joined the club in Philadelphia and the first Yank we encountered was the late Lou Gehrig who was standing outside the hotel enjoying the morning sun.

Lou immediately started ribbing us. "Glad to see you've quit the minors. How is Mr. (John) McGraw feeling these days? Too bad we won't get to play the Giants in the big series."

The next day we found Earl Combs reading a trenchant piece by the late Damon Runyon in which Damon was extolling the merits of the National League as a pitcher's paradise and the American as a hitter's league.

Combs waved the paper at us: "I know everybody thinks we've got the hitters but we've got pitchers at least as good as any in the National League. Fact is, we have more good pitchers on our own club than you will find on any two clubs in the National."

How right he was and how easily the Yanks were to prove it when they swept through the Pittsburgh Pirates in four straight games that fall.

Looking back now, it seems strange that the belief was so widespread that the American had the hitters and the National the pitchers.

In retrospect we now realize that the American had the most of both hitters and pitchers.

Almost all the big sluggers were then in the junior circuit. Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Jimmy Foxx.

Now the pendulum seems to have swung in the other direction. A glance at the average discloses most of the power boys are in the National League.

Last time we looked Mickey Mantle of the Yanks was leading the American League with 29 homers. But in the National there were half a dozen with better marks and four more who might top the American League's best long ball hitters before the season ends.

Big Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati was leading the National League parade with 41 but with only a score and a half of games remaining his chances of equalling Ruth's 60 are not too good.

Ernie Banks had 39, Duke Snider 38, Willie Mays 36, Ed Matthews 30 and Wally Post 29. Then came Roy Campanella and Stan Musial with 25 apiece and Del Ennis and Hank Aaron with 24.

It may be that the American has better pitchers but that is a moot point. We believe the leading home run hitters of the National would do just as well if playing in the American.

And, conversely, we don't think the leading AL hitters would do any better if playing in the National.

The program will include six events. Time trials start at 1:30 p. m. with the first race set for 2:45.

Gomez Beats Dodgers, 5-3

Willie Mays Belts 37th Four-Bagger

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP) — The New York Giants wrapped up their scoring before Brooklyn could get started tonight and defeated the Dodgers 5-3 while righthander Ruben Gomez held the National League leaders to seven hits.

New York, in third place 16 games behind, tagged loser Johnny Podres for a 5-0 lead before the Dodgers solved Gomez in the sixth inning as Roy Campanella smacked his 26th home run with two men on.

Gomez, now 8-6, limited the Brooks to two hits over the first five frames, setting them down in order in the first, third and fourth. He struck out six and walked three.

Willie Mays put the Giants beyond reach in the fifth, walloping a 450-foot drive off the left field stands with a man on base. It was his 37th home run of the season.

The Giants scored their first two runs in the third on a single by Gomez, a double by Billy Gardner and Whitey Lockman's single. Gardner was recalled from Minneapolis late today to replace the injured Al Dark at shortstop.

New York got another run in the fourth as Podres yielded his only walk and Wayne Terwilliger and Ray Katt followed with singles.

Podres' record now is 8-7.

Hank Thompson of the Giants was struck on the left elbow by one of Spooner's pitches in the eighth and had to leave the game.

New York Yankees Smother Red Sox At Boston, 13 To 6

Larsen, Mantle Clout Homers In 7-Run 3rd

Seven Players Hit For Circuit; 34,152 See Series Opener

BOSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The New York Yankees, flaunting their newly-recovered power, smothered the Boston Red Sox 13-6tonight with an 18-hit attack including jarring home runs by Mickey Mantle and pitcher Don Larsen in a seven-run third inning that all but clinched the game.

Bill Skowron and Hank Bauer also homered as the Yanks tightened their first place hold with their seventh straight win, but it was the rugged Bauer who made the decisive play of the game.

Tom Morgan relieved in the eighth inning to preserve Don Larsen's fourth consecutive triumph since being recalled from Denver late in July. Larsen had coasted while yielding two-run homers to Red Sox reliever Dick Brodowski in the fifth and Ted williams in the sixth, his 21st.

But after Jackie Jensen belted No. 20 in the eighth, Larsen hit Norm Zauchin with a pitch and Sammy White doubled for a second run. Then manager Casey Stengel waved in Morgan.

Bauer led off the third with a walk and advanced to third on Gil McDougald's sacrifice and loser Frank Sullivan's wild pitch.

Yogi Berra grounded to the mound and Sullivan whirled to trap Bauer off third. In the run-down Sullivan dropped the ball as Bauer bowled into him.

Bauer scored as Sully was hurled backward and sent sprawling. Berra reached second on the play. The capacity crowd of 34,152, sensing impending disaster, moaned.

Brooks To Play In Jersey City

BROOKLYN, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers will play seven of their National League games in Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium next year, club President Walter O'Malley announced late today.

O'Malley said that one game would be played with each National League rival and that an exhibition game with an American League team also would be scheduled there. He added that he already had permission from all National League clubs to make the change.

In announcing the split schedule, the first hint of which was a story in today's Jersey Journal, O'Malley said "we plan to play almost all of our home games at Ebbets Field in 1956 and 1957 but we will have to have a new stadium shortly thereafter."

Retires 21 In Row, Yields Two Singles

DETROIT, Aug. 16 (AP) — Billy Hoeft retired 21 successive batters in one stretch and allowed only two singles while pitching the Detroit Tigers to a jolting 7-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in Briggs Stadium tonight.

In hurling his fifth shutout of the season, Hoeft gave up a single to Bobby Avila in the first inning and another to Larry Doby in the second.

The slender southpaw then mowed down the Indians in order until Al Smith worked him for a pass with two out in the ninth.

The victory, before a crowd of 47,583, gave Hoeft a 12-6 record.

Bill Tuttle knocked in four runs and Frank House three as the Tigers, who had lost six straight games to Cleveland, dropped the Indians a game and a half behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

Redlegs Down Cubs, Take Fifth Place

CINCINNATI, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs took over fifth place in the National League tonight, ousting the Chicago Cubs from the spot with an early inning splurge that produced an 11-2 victory over the Bruins. The Reds scored all of their 11 runs in the first three innings on their first 11 hits but they were aided by two damaging Chicago errors.

Smokey Burgess hit his 17th home run of the season in the opening inning off Jim Davis and it was his blow that sent the Reds away to a fast start. It came after Johnny Temple had opened the Reds' half with a single.

Joe Black, although yielding nine hits to the Cubs, spaced them over six innings and had the Cubs shut out until the seventh when doubles by Dee Fondy and Gene Baker and a single by Jim King produced two runs.

Braves Lose, 3-2

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Bill Sarni's triple in the eighth inning drove home the winning run tonight and Harvey Haddix shut off a ninth inning threat by Milwaukee to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the Braves.

Haddix gained credit for his 10th victory against 11 defeats but had to pitch his way out of a jam in the Braves' ninth. Del Crandall singled with one out and then Haddix whipped a called third strike past pinch hitter Bob Roselli only to have Danny O'Connell send Crandall to third with a bloop single to center.

U. S. Davis Cup Team Is Named

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Davis Cup selection committee tonight named Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert, U. S. titleholder Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., and Gil Shea of Los Angeles to defend the trophy Australia at Forest Hills, N.Y. Aug. 26-28.

The committee, headed by Lawrence Baker, also invited Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex. and Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J. to practice with the team.

Trabert, Seixas and Richardson were members of the team which won the cup back from Australia last December. Trabert and Seixas did all of the playing, however.

Philadelphia Beats Pittsburgh, 12-3

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies backed up veteran Herman Wehmeier with a lusty 15-hit attack tonight and he coasted to a 12-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, a team which rarely gives him trouble.

Jim Greengrass led the Philly attack with four hits, including two doubles.

Wehmeier gave up seven hits as he chalked up his ninth victory against nine defeats. Five of the victories were over the Pirates. At the start of the season Wehmeier had an 18-7 lifetime record against the Pirates.

The Phillies got to starter Bob Friend for three runs in the first inning, two of them on a triple by Del Ennis. They tallied two runs in the fifth, two more in the sixth, four in the eighth and pushed across another marker in the ninth.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(INS)—Somewhere about mid-season in 1927 we swung over from the New York Giants, who were going nowhere, to the pennant-bound New York Yanks, who were about to make a swing around the circuit.

We joined the club in Philadelphia and the first Yank we encountered was the late Lou Gehrig who was standing outside the hotel enjoying the morning sun.

Lou immediately started ribbing us. "Glad to see you've quit the minors. How is Mr. (John) McGraw feeling these days? Too bad we won't get to play the Giants in the big series."

The next day we found Earl Combs reading a trenchant piece by the late Damon Runyon in which Damon was extolling the merits of the National League as a pitcher's paradise and the American as a hitter's league.

Combs waved the paper at us: "I know everybody thinks we've got the hitters but we've got pitchers at least as good as any in the National League. Fact is, we have more good pitchers on our own club than you will find on any two clubs in the National."

How right he was and how easily the Yanks were to prove it when they swept through the Pittsburgh Pirates in four straight games that fall.

Looking back now, it seems strange that the belief was so widespread that the American had the hitters and the National the pitchers.

In retrospect we now realize that the American had the most of both hitters and pitchers.

Almost all the big sluggers were then in the junior circuit. Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Jimmy Foxx.

Now the pendulum seems to have swung in the other direction. A glance at the average discloses most of the power boys are in the National League.

Last time we looked Mickey Mantle of the Yanks was leading the American League with 29 homers. But in the National there were half a dozen with better marks and four more who might top the American League's best long ball hitters before the season ends.

Big Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati was leading the National League parade with 41 but with only a score and a half of games remaining his chances of equalling Ruth's 60 are not too good.

Ernie Banks had 39, Duke Snider 38, Willie Mays 36, Ed Matthews 30 and Wally Post 29. Then came Roy Campanella and Stan Musial with 25 apiece and Del Ennis and Hank Aaron with 24.

It may be that the American has better pitchers but that is a moot point. We believe the leading home run hitters of the National would do just as well if playing in the American.

And, conversely, we don't think the leading AL hitters would do any better if playing in the National.

Gomez Beats Dodgers, 5-3

Willie Mays Belts 37th Four-Bagger

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP) — The New York Giants wrapped up their scoring before Brooklyn could get started tonight and defeated the Dodgers 5-3 while righthander Ruben Gomez held the National League leaders to seven hits.

New York, in third place 16 games behind, tagged loser Johnny Podres for a 5-0 lead before the Dodgers solved Gomez in the sixth inning as Roy Campanella smacked his 26th home run with two men on.

Gomez, now 8-6, limited the Brooks to two hits over the first five frames, setting them down in order in the first, third and fourth. He struck out six and walked three.

Willie Mays put the Giants beyond reach in the fifth, walloping a 450-foot drive off the left field stands with a man on base. It was his 37th home run of the season.

The Giants scored their first two runs in the third on a single by Gomez, a double by Billy Gardner and Whitey Lockman's single. Gardner was recalled from Minneapolis late today to replace the injured Al Dark at shortstop.

New York got another run in the fourth as Podres yielded his only walk and Wayne Terwilliger and Ray Katt followed with singles.

Podres' record now is 3-7.

Hank Thompson of the Giants was struck on the left elbow by one of Spooner's pitches in the eighth and had to leave the game.

Racing Season To Start Today At Hagerstown

Competition Comes From Charles Town

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 16 (AP) — Horses start racing at Hagerstown fair grounds tomorrow while promoters wonder how much betting on them will be affected by a "wheel" in competition across the Potomac River in Charles Town, W. Va.

That's a lot of competition since the Hagerstown betting mill is open for only 10 days.

Last year, Hagerstown drew 7,631 customers who bet $353,307 on opening day. The Charles Town track, only 28 miles away, was closed and the Hagerstown backers are worried there will be a decrease tomorrow.

Charles Town has been averaging $300,884 in betting and 4,599 in attendance at this meeting.

While Hagerstown officials are worndering if fewer people show up because of Charles Town's competition, Racing Secretary Henry Carroll reported he had plenty of horses. He said all barns are filled to provide all the entries needed for a wide choice of $2 bets.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates rookie third baseman, Gene Freese, injured his right ankle in a fall down a stairway at his Wheeling, W. Va., home and will be lost to the club for a minimum of 10 days.

A Pirate spokesman said Freese was injured last night while visiting his family after the Pirates returned from an extended road trip. X-rays showed the ankle was sprained but not broken.

Johnson's Wins, 4-0, Kelly, Old Germans Tied For 3rd Place

Johnson's Grocery knocked off the Old Germans yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 4-0 and dropped the latter into a tie with Kelly Retail Store for third place in the City Softball League.

Both Kelly and Old Germans have one more game on their schedule. The Old G's play Schute's Roofers today and Kelly opposes Johnson's on Friday. The tied third place teams now own 12-17 records.

Glenn Kauffman extended his string of scoreless innings to 20 by scoring yesterday's shutout, his 16th win of the season against two setbacks. He hurled six scoreless innings against Schute's on August 5th, winning 2-1, and blanked McGee's, 8-0, on Monday. The Brewers were limited to four singles in yesterday's contest.

Mil Dean had two of the Grocers' seven safeties and Ronnie Cage smacked a two-bagger. Score:

Orioles' Attendance Is Off This Year

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, who started last year talking optimistically of drawing around 1,800,000 fans, will be lucky to count half that many this second season.

The Orioles didn't come close last season to their goal, playing to 1,069,910, and this season business is slower.

With 14 dates remaining, they have played before 701,382. They will have to maintain their average of more than 14,000 to get past 900,000 which would be 16 per cent below the 1954 total.

At this point of the schedule last year, the Orioles had drawn 890,593.

Valdes, Satterfield Bout Set Tonight

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP) — Nino Valdes, heavyweight champion of Cuba, will risk his fifth ranking spot among ring contenders tomorrow night when he meets slugging Bob Satterfield of Chicago in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium.

The bout will be televised nationally over the ABC-TV network, beginning at 9 p.m. EST.

Valdes, who had a string of 11 straight triumphs snapped earlier this summer by light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, has won 33 bouts, lost 9 and drew 2.

Satterfield has won 38 bouts-30 of them by knockouts, but he has lost 19 and gotten a drew in 3. Included in his triumphs was a first-round knockout of Bob Baker, who defeated Valdes in 10 rounds.

Racing Season To Start Today At Hagerstown

Competition Comes From Charles Town

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 16 (AP) — Horses start racing at Hagerstown fair grounds tomorrow while promoters wonder how much betting on them will be affected by a "wheel" in competition across the Potomac River in Charles Town, W. Va.

The horses have been spinning around the Charles Town track since July 1. They'll go on for the first four days of Hagerstown's meet.

That's a lot of competition since the Hagerstown betting mill is open for only 10 days.

Last year, Hagerstown drew 7,631 customers who bet $353,307 on opening day. The Charles Town track, only 28 miles away, was closed and the Hagerstown backers are worried there will be a decrease tomorrow.

Charles Town has been averaging $300,884 in betting and 4,599 in attendance at this meeting.

While Hagerstown officials are worndering if fewer people show up because of Charles Town's competition, Racing Secretary Henry Carroll reported he had plenty of horses. He said all barns are filled to provide all the entries needed for a wide choice of $2 bets.

Freese Is Injured

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates rookie third baseman, Gene Freese, injured his right ankle in a fall down a stairway at his Wheeling, W. Va., home and will be lost to the club for a minimum of 10 days.

A Pirate spokesman said Freese was injured last night while visiting his family after the Pirates returned from an extended road trip. X-rays showed the ankle was sprained but not broken.

Johnson's Wins, 4-0, Kelly, Old Germans Tied For 3rd Place

Johnson's Grocery knocked off the Old Germans yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 4-0 and dropped the latter into a tie with Kelly Retail Store for third place in the City Softball League.

Both Kelly and Old Germans have one more game on their schedule. The Old G's play Schute's Roofers today and Kelly opposes Johnson's on Friday. The tied third place teams now own 12-17 records.

Glenn Kauffman extended his string of scoreless innings to 20 by scoring yesterday's shutout, his 16th win of the season against two setbacks. He hurled six scoreless innings against Schute's on August 5th, winning 2-1, and blanked McGee's, 8-0, on Monday. The Brewers were limited to four singles in yesterday's contest.

Mil Dean had two of the Grocers' seven safeties and Ronnie Cage smacked a two-bagger. Score:

Orioles' Attendance Is Off This Year

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, who started last year talking optimistically of drawing around 1,800,000 fans, will be lucky to count half that many this second season.

The Orioles didn't come close last season to their goal, playing to 1,069,910, and this season business is slower.

With 14 dates remaining, they have played before 701,382. They will have to maintain their average of more than 14,000 to get past 900,000 which would be 16 per cent below the 1954 total.

At this point of the schedule last year, the Orioles had drawn 890,593.

Valdes, Satterfield Bout Set Tonight

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP) — Nino Valdes, heavyweight champion of Cuba, will risk his fifth ranking spot among ring contenders tomorrow night when he meets slugging Bob Satterfield of Chicago in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium.

The bout will be televised nationally over the ABC-TV network, beginning at 9 p.m. EST.

Valdes, who had a string of 11 straight triumphs snapped earlier this summer by light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, has won 33 bouts, lost 9 and drew 2.

Satterfield has won 38 bouts-30 of them by knockouts, but he has lost 19 and gotten a drew in 3. Included in his triumphs was a first-round knockout of Bob Baker, who defeated Valdes in 10 rounds.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 16 (INS) — Gordon MacRae, long hankering for a Broadway musical, has promised William Gaxton, via long distance, that he will fly to New York to read "If I Were Queen" and if it is as good as it sounds — he'll star in it this season.

Gaxton, himself a musical comedy star, is serving only as the producer on this show for which Ogden Nash is writing the lyrics and J. Fred Coots the music. The plot is one of those mythical things about life in this country as a monarchy and ruled by a queen.

Gordon is currently in San Francisco appearing at the Bal Tabarin and plans to go east in two weeks.

You can put it down in your little book that when Marilyn Monroe leaves for Europe and a visit to Russia, she will be accompanied by Joe DiMaggio!

These two are on better terms than at any time since their honeymoon and once again Marilyn is listening to Joe and taking his advice.

Their trip may last to the end of the year with both Marilyn and Joe doing shows for our European armed forces just as they did on their famous Korean junket.

Hollywood in shorts:

Jackie Cooper and his pretty Barbara couldn't be happier. They're expecting a baby in February.

This one is really out of left field, — but Charlie Schnee is seriously mulling on Mickey Mantle for the Rocky Graziano role in "Somebody Up There Likes Me."

Vittorio Gassman denies marriage is in the offing for him and Italian Actress Anna Maria Ferrero, which at one time might have interested Shelley Winters, but not now.

Marlon Brando and Rita Moreno on their second date to the Har-Omar.

Add to the list of those planning trips to Moscow, Pat (Mrs. Peter) Lawford, who, with her sister, will visit Russia on her European tour. They leave New York the 27th.

That's all today.

Britain Keeps Atom Reactor Fuel Secret

GENEVA, Aug. 16 (AP)—Britain invoked a new kind of security today in refusing to say what type of fuel would be used in atomic power reactors now under construction.

Asked about the so-called hill reactors, British industrialist Sir Christopher Hinton told the atoms-for-peace conference that information on the fuel elements was a business secret.

A Russian scientist refused to tell a questioner last week the type of reactor used in the new 100,000 kilowatt power station being built in the Soviet Union. He gave no reason for his refusal, however.

Except for these instances, the exchange of information has been surprisingly free.

120 Film Entries

VENICE, Italy, Aug. 16 (AP) — The Venice International Film Festival has received 120 entries from 21 nations, including Soviet Russia, in the documentary and short features competition opening tomorrow.

Keyser News Briefs

Charles Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Robinson, McCoole, and Joseph Stallknecht, Baltimore, recently returned from a motor trip to Nebraska and the Blackhills of South Dakota.

David Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Robinson, McCoole, has returned to his home following a short visit with his brother, Charles Robinson, in Baltimore.

Receipts from parking meters in Keyser for the week ending last Saturday at 6 p. m., were $294.56, according to City Clerk Carl F. Theis Jr. The previous week's meter receipts were $306.43.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Or Run For The Hills

While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is writer-producer Charles Andrews.

Wake up, America. Your life is being threatened! A well organized, insidious enemy is trying to rob you of your sanity. I have seen them in action and I know what I'm talking about.

Their aim is to reduce every man, woman and child in this country to a state of idiocy. They won't rest until all of us are sitting in our living rooms slack-mouthed and staring into space with vacant, bloodshot eyes.

How do these fiends intend to do this, you ask? By giving us more entertainment than the human mind can cope with, that's how! They are making television programs so much bigger and longer and so much more expensive that sooner or later the American mind will snap. Oh, you can laugh . . . but, wait! Already the first moves toward the big breakup have been made.

Remember that old program where a fellow answered a few questions and won $64? Well, a couple of weeks ago they had a little old lady who reads the Bible locked up in a glass cage and she almost won $64,000! How much can the human mind stand? People who have been watching "I Love Lucy" for years without ill effects keeled over in a dead faint that night.

Well, you say, I won't watch the program and then they can't drive me nuts. Fool! I have it on good authority that a couple of unemployed producers are mooching drinks at Toots Shor's bar and trying to figure out a way to build another program where the prize will be $64,000,000! Try and not watch that show if you can.

Remember when the networks put on a Spectacular every other week? That wasn't so long ago. Now they put them on every single week and they have just announced that they are going to repeat the good ones the following day. Most of us have barely recovered from seeing Carol Channing in "Svengali," and already they are talking about repeats.

There for a while you could see a full hour dramatic show almost any night in the week. Starting this fall there will be a full hour dramatic show every afternoon, five days a week. They say that water slowly dropping on the forehead will rob a man of his reason. Think what will happen when it's hour dramatic show, hour dramatic show, hour dramatic show, day after day, week after week, month after month. How long will you last?

These people will stop at nothing to keep you glued to your sets. As an example of how fiendishly clever they are, take the Jackie Gleason show. In the beginning it used to start out with a few jokes, nice old jokes that we all knew and loved. But, that wasn't enough. They added dancers. They added more dancers than anyone had ever seen before. And the dancers kicked higher and tapped faster than any other dancers in the world.

It wasn't enough to just let them tap and kick. You had to look down on them as they sat on the floor and made snowflake patterns. Now, everyone knows that a snowflake pattern on a television set is too much like the stuff you see through a 10-cent kaleidoscope to hold the interest of the audience.

Why do people watch so intently then? Because the men who planned it knew that sooner or later one of those girls would get mixed up and kick in the wrong direction and kick out the teeth of her tapmate and they know that the audience would realize it would hap-

Contract Bridge

ALTERNATE PLAYS

IN SUCH a case as the following, the average declarer automatically finesses for a missing queen because that is the only line of play he sees. There may, however, be a different line, if the declarer surmises (or simply guesses) that the queen is off-side. For example:

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable

	♠ J 5 2 ♥ Q 10 4 ♦ A 8 3 ♣ A J 9 5
♠ Q 9 7 3 ♥ 6 3 2 ♦ J 10 9 ♣ Q 8 3	N W E S	♠ 8 4 ♥ 9 7 ♦ Q 7 6 5 ♣ K 10 6 4 2
	♠ A K 10 6 ♥ A K J 8 5 ♦ K 4 2 ♣ 7

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond jack—and declarer took time out to think.

Obviously, South could rely on the spade finesse, but for that play to be successful, East would have to have the spade queen with no more than two guards. If he had greater length in the suit, the finesse in itself would be worthless—West would cover dummy's jack and still have the suit stopped. (Obviously, South could not afford to play several rounds of spades without drawing trumps.)

After long thought declarer decided—perhaps on a sheer hunch—to play for West to hold the spade queen. So, winning the first trick with the diamond king, South led to the club ace and ruffed a club. He then led the low spade. West hesitated over this unlooked-for situation but finally put up the queen. His diamond return was taken by the ace, and South ruffed another club. Now the spade ten was overtaken with dummy's jack and South ruffed the last club.

South was now reduced to the J-5 of trumps (he had ruffed the clubs high) but dummy still had its original trump holding. South cashed the heart jack, led the five to the ten, and drew West's third trump with the queen while discarding the diamond four from the closed hand. The two top spades then completed the con-

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Or Run For The Hills

While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is writer-producer Charles Andrews.

Wake up, America. Your life is being threatened! A well organized, insidious enemy is trying to rob you of your sanity. I have seen them in action and I know what I'm talking about.

Their aim is to reduce every man, woman and child in this country to a state of idiocy. They won't rest until all of us are sitting in our living rooms slack-mouthed and staring into space with vacant, bloodshot eyes.

How do these fiends intend to do this, you ask? By giving us more entertainment than the human mind can cope with, that's how! They are making television programs so much bigger and longer and so much more expensive that sooner or later the American mind will snap. Oh, you can laugh . . . but, wait! Already the first moves toward the big breakup have been made.

Remember that old program where a fellow answered a few questions and won $64? Well, a couple of weeks ago they had a little old lady who reads the Bible locked up in a glass cage and she almost won $64,000! How much can the human mind stand? People who have been watching "I Love Lucy" for years without ill effects keeled over in a dead faint that night.

Well, you say, I won't watch the program and then they can't drive me nuts. Fool! I have it on good authority that a couple of unemployed producers are mooching drinks at Toots Shor's bar and trying to figure out a way to build another program where the prize will be $64,000,000! Try and not watch that show if you can.

Remember when the networks put on a Spectacular every other week? That wasn't so long ago. Now they put them on every single week and they have just announced that they are going to repeat the good ones the following day. Most of us have barely recovered from seeing Carol Channing in "Svengali," and already they are talking about repeats.

There for a while you could see a full hour dramatic show almost any night in the week. Starting this fall there will be a full hour dramatic show every afternoon, five days a week. They say that water slowly dropping on the forehead will rob a man of his reason. Think what will happen when it's hour dramatic show, hour dramatic show, hour dramatic show, day after day, week after week, month after month. How long will you last?

These people will stop at nothing to keep you glued to your sets. As an example of how fiendishly clever they are, take the Jackie Gleason show. In the beginning it used to start out with a few jokes, nice old jokes that we all knew and loved. But, that wasn't enough. They added dancers. They added more dancers than anyone had ever seen before. And the dancers kicked higher and tapped faster than any other dancers in the world.

It wasn't enough to just let them tap and kick. You had to look down on them as they sat on the floor and made snowflake patterns. Now, everyone knows that a snowflake pattern on a television set is too much like the stuff you see through a 10-cent kaleidoscope to hold the interest of the audience.

Why do people watch so intently then? Because the men who planned it knew that sooner or later one of those girls would get mixed up and kick in the wrong direction and kick out the teeth of her tapmate and they know that the audience would realize it would hap-

PROGRESS REPORT of the Expansion of Our Cable System

★ 4 Amplifier areas have been completed on the Bedford Road. 4 more Amplifier areas will be completed by the first part of September, which will include all of Bedford Road to Pea Vine Run.

★ Signed Agreement with The Western Maryland Railway Company has just been received to the Virginia Avenue crossing into the Roberts Street section. We also expect to be into Wiley Ford by the end of August.

★ We plan on having part of Ridgeley developed during the month of September. We have had to wait until the proper time, so that our conduit could be installed in the approach to the new bridge.

★ Our Cumberland Cable System will be extended into upper LaVale, Allegany Grove, Bowling Green and Cresaptown just as soon as it is possible to do so. We hope to have most of this completed before the last of December.

ALTERNATE PLAYS

IN SUCH a case as the following, the average declarer automatically finesses for a missing queen because that is the only line of play he sees. There may, however, be a different line, if the declarer surmises (or simply guesses) that the queen is off-side. For example:

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable

	♠ J 5 2 ♥ Q 10 4 ♦ A 8 3 ♣ A J 9 5
♠ Q 9 7 3 ♥ 6 3 2 ♦ J 10 9 ♣ Q 8 3	N W E S	♠ 8 4 ♥ 9 7 ♦ Q 7 6 5 ♣ K 10 6 4 2
	♠ A K 10 6 ♥ A K J 8 5 ♦ K 4 2 ♣ 7

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond jack—and declarer took time out to think.

Obviously, South could rely on the spade finesse, but for that play to be successful, East would have to have the spade queen with no more than two guards. If he had greater length in the suit, the finesse in itself would be worthless—West would cover dummy's jack and still have the suit stopped. (Obviously, South could not afford to play several rounds of spades without drawing trumps.)

After long thought declarer decided—perhaps on a sheer hunch—to play for West to hold the spade queen. So, winning the first trick with the diamond king, South led to the club ace and ruffed a club. He then led the low spade. West hesitated over this unlooked-for situation but finally put up the queen. His diamond return was taken by the ace, and South ruffed another club. Now the spade ten was overtaken with dummy's jack and South ruffed the last club.

South was now reduced to the J-5 of trumps (he had ruffed the clubs high) but dummy still had its original trump holding. South cashed the heart jack, led the five to the ten, and drew West's third trump with the queen while discarding the diamond four from the closed hand. The two top spades then completed the con-

pen sooner or later and not one person in America would want to miss an event like that. Oh, I tell you. These people are clever.

They are going to go on making things bigger and better and more expensive until our collective lids will pop right off. There's only one hope as I see it. Here and there, although they are becoming increasingly hard to find, there is a little inexpensive show with grace and charm. Seek them out! And when you're lucky enough to find one, drop the folks a card. Just say, "I saw your little program." That's all you have to do. If they get enough cards the people who pay for them will be only too happy to keep the little inexpensive show going. It's our only hope!

Market Declines As Late Selling Trend Develops

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—The stock market declined today when final selling put a definitely lower trend to what had been an irregular performance.

There was no hurry about the decline, but sales expanded somewhat from yesterday's unusually low total—1,520,000 as against 1,230,000 shares.

Losses went to between 1 and 3 points. There were gains of 1 to 2 points in key areas.

Feature of the day was strength in coppers and some other nonferrous metals. They started the day higher and maintained their advantage throughout. Magma Copper was up 2¼, International Nickel up 2, and Kennecott Copper up 1⅝.

Aircrafts were higher early in the session and kept pace with the coppers for a time, but they faded and closed mostly lower. North American Aviation, which has atomic interests, held to a gain of 1¼ at 68½. It was the fifth most active stock.

In the generally lower category were the steels, motors, farm implements, building materials, oils, and railroads.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.00 at $170.60. Industrials lost $1.60, rails were off 70 cents, and utilities eased 10 cents.

pen sooner or later and not one person in America would want to miss an event like that. Oh, I tell you. These people are clever.

They are going to go on making things bigger and better and more expensive until our collective lids will pop right off. There's only one hope as I see it. Here and there, although they are becoming increasingly hard to find, there is a little inexpensive show with grace and charm. Seek them out! And when you're lucky enough to find one, drop the folks a card. Just say, "I saw your little program." That's all you have to do. If they get enough cards the people who pay for them will be only too happy to keep the little inexpensive show going. It's our only hope!

Market Declines As Late Selling Trend Develops

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—The stock market declined today when final selling put a definitely lower trend to what had been an irregular performance.

There was no hurry about the decline, but sales expanded somewhat from yesterday's unusually low total—1,520,000 as against 1,230,000 shares.

Losses went to between 1 and 3 points. There were gains of 1 to 2 points in key areas.

Feature of the day was strength in coppers and some other nonferrous metals. They started the day higher and maintained their advantage throughout. Magma Copper was up 2¼, International Nickel up 2, and Kennecott Copper up 1⅜.

Aircrafts were higher early in the session and kept pace with the coppers for a time, but they faded and closed mostly lower. North American Aviation, which has atomic interests, held to a gain of 1¼ at 68½. It was the fifth most active stock.

In the generally lower category were the steels, motors, farm implements, building materials, oils, and railroads.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.00 at $170.60. Industrials lost $1.60, rails were off 70 cents, and utilities eased 10 cents.

Cumberland Pays Tribute To Its Future While Celebrating Past

Youth Day Is Observed With Parade, Games

800 Take Part In Ceremonies

The youth of Cumberland, the most precious resource of this Western Maryland industrial center, had their day of glory yesterday as the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration entered its third day.

To mark the occasion, the City Recreation Department held its annual playground picnic, which brought some 800 children to Constitution Park for a full day of fun, games, a picnic, treasure hunt and all-star ball games.

To climax daytime activities, the children from the city's 16 playgrounds staged a pet, costume and wheels parade at 5:30 p. m. in the downtown area.

In spite of the grueling day's activities, they still had enough energy left to stage a heart-warming performance through streets lined with Bicentennial celebrants.

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, reported over 800 children arrived at Constitution Park yesterday morning.

Southern Team Wins

Morning activities included a series of games, relays and races for all age groups.

Most of the children attended the annual Pee-Wee Division All-Star game, which was won by Southern Division stars 12-11.

The tight game was won by the Southern Division team, which turned the tide with three runs in the last inning, including a home run by Jack Sheetz.

Also popular was the treasure hunt, staged in Grove 2 of the park as the last morning activity.

A basket picnic was held at noon, as the Junior Division All-Star game was played.

The Southern Division team won 8-5 in a tight game in which Gary Wolford and Gordon Slonaker were hitting stars.

Enjoy Park Pool

The Constitution Park swimming pool was opened for free swimming and aquatic games by all of the children. Events included all types of swimming games and events.

For those who desired less active recreation, there were table games, such as checkers and Chinese checkers all afternoon in the pool casino.

The Pigtail League All-Star game got under way at 2 p. m., and resulted in a third victory for the Southern Division, by a 11-5 score.

Arizona Donn and Ella Mae and Dusty Shaver, local radio stars, entertained the children in the early afternoon with a program of songs, dances and music.

Over 150 prizes were awarded during the picnic events and gifts were presented to children who participated in the playground parade at 5:30 p. m.

Led by a police escort, the playground parade featured music by the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers Post 153, American Legion.

"The Good Old Days"

Then followed a delegation of children, dressed in costumes of the past 200 years.

Some of the lads wore beards which would have been the envy of their older Brothers of the Brush, and the petite dresses and bonnets worn by the girls would provide stiff competition in the style show planned Thursday on Belles and Brush day.

The Indians who made their homes here some 200 years ago would have applauded several of the diminutive braves—and envied one Indian mounted on a bike.

Youth Parade

Youth Leaders Honored At Bicentennial

Over 3,000 Thrilled By Big Pageant

The Fort Cumberland Bicentennial last night honored the outstanding youths of this city in a ceremony preceding the second performance of "Redskins and Redcoats," presented at Fort Hill Stadium before more than 3,000 spectators.

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, was master of ceremonies at the program and presented the youths, honored for leadership in the city's recreation program, to Robert M. (Lefty) Grove, Lonaconing.

Receive Certificates

Grove presented Bicentennial certificates to each of the youths, who received a tremendous ovation from the audience.

Greetings from the Eastern Shore of Maryland were brought by Rep. Edward T. Miller (1st Md.), who was introduced by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Rep. James P. S. Devereux (2nd Md.), introduced by Col. Randolph Millholland, cited that George Washington, while a young man at Fort Cumberland, accepted responsibility, as did the youths of that day, because they realized the danger from the enemy over the mountains.

Urges Preparedness

The ceremony honoring Cumberland's youth leaders provided a thrilling prelude to the spectacle relating the top events of past 200 years of the history of Fort Cumberland.

The second-nighters, estimated at over 3,000, provided an enthusiastic audience for the spectacle, which moved along smoothly to its fireworks climax.

Good Neighbors Day Today In Bicentennial

Special Programs Are Scheduled

The City of Cumberland today will honor citizens and officials of neighboring cities in connection with the Good Neighbors Day activities of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration.

Activities will include special programs citing the old Narrows Bridge and the new Cumberland-Ridgeley Bridge.

The visiting officials will also be honored at 8:15 p. m. at a pre-performance ceremony at Fort Hill Stadium, prior to the third performance of "Redskins and Redcoats."

A capacity crowd is expected at tonight's performance, based on advance ticket sales.

In a simple public ceremony at 10 a. m., a tablet commemorating the building of the old Narrows Bridge—part of the original National Road—will be unveiled.

The unveiling will take place in the small grassy triangle at the west end of the present bridge.

Miss Ruth N. Clauson, president of the Allegany County Historical Society, who will preside, said nearly all those who will participate in the program are descendents of people who probably saw the dedication of the original bridge in the 1830s. All parts of the county will be represented.

The program will open with old stage coach trumpet calls by Miss Margaret E. Thompson, who will be dressed in the costume of the period when stage coaches rolled along the old National Pike to and from Cumberland.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will welcome the group attending, and a representative of the State Roads Commission will be introduced.

Cynthia Leigh Gunter, escorted by C. R. Nuzum Jr., will unveil the tablet. Both will be appropriately costumed.

William C. Walsh, former chief judge of the Court of Appeals and former Maryland attorney general, will deliver the principal address, and Miss Thompson will close the program with stage coach trumpet calls.

A civic luncheon will be held at 1:30 p. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel to honor some 80 visiting and local civic officials and a delegation from labor organizations.

Mayor Roy W. Eves and the City Council will be hosts and Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, will be master of ceremonies.

Among the honored guests will be the girls who served as Miss Fort Cumberland on the good will tours made to area cities to deliver invitations to the celebration.

The George Washington Crossing ceremony will be held at 3:30 p. m. today on the site of the new bridge which is being erected over the Potomac River, between Cumberland and Ridgeley.

Franklin's The Name

This member of the cast of "Redskins and Redcoats," the Bicentennial pageant being presented nightly at Fort Hill Stadium, could be called a character actor—at least on the basis of his name. He's Ben J. Franklin of 852 Greene Street. The fellow he's portraying is—naturally—Benjamin Franklin.

Keyser Closes Landfill For Garbage Disposal

A landfill operation of garbage and refuse disposal operated at Keyser, W. Va., has been ordered halted by action of the Mayor and City Council, and six city employes engaged there have been placed on other work.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Council of Keyser yesterday afternoon, according to Mayor John C. Freeland, council voted to halt the operation in compliance with a petition from Keyser citizens.

He explains that a couple of weeks ago, a petition bearing nearly 1,000 names of citizens was presented to the council, calling for the halt of the landfill operation due to the cost involved.

As a result of this petition, under state and local law, council must not spend money on the operation.

At the same time, there is a West Virginia provision which requires communities to dispose properly of garbage and waste material in some manner such as the landfill method.

Thus the town officials of Keyser are in a quandary.

The council served notice yesterday on all residents and business places that the landfill operation has been closed and there is now no community-sponsored method of disposing of garbage. The town does not collect its garbage, as this is done by individuals and private haulers.

With the closing of the landfill, haulers and individuals are again dumping in the Potomac River, in New Creek, and in outlying wooded areas. In fact, residents of the McCoole area say some of the Keyser garbage is being hauled into this

$72,850 Verdict Is Returned In Beach Case

Deep Creek Lake Suit Concluded

A Garrett County Circuit Court jury yesterday afternoon awarded Fulcher P. Smith of Oakland a $72,850 verdict for some 57 acres of beach front on Deep Creek Lake which the State Department of Forests and Parks seeks to develop as a public swimming and boating area.

The verdict, believed one of the largest in the history of the Oakland court, was returned after about an hour's deliberation. Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris of this city presided at the two-day trial during which widely varying values were placed on the land at stake.

The defense rested after presenting six witnesses, including Smith himself yesterday. They included Stuart F. Hamill Jr., attorney and real estate man; Cyrus V. Bower of Hyndman, Pa., who has been interested in the Turkey Neck development in Garrett County; Thomas Stevenson, a real estate man and school teacher in Oakland; Clarence Thomas, who has been employed in clearing land along Deep Creek Lake, and William W. DeWitt, the Garrett County engineer.

Real estate men called in behalf of Smith placed a value at more than $100,000 on the approximately 4,700 feet of lake frontage.

DeWitt testified that there is a county road in back of Smith's property and the county has plans for its improvement as soon as there is real estate development in the area.

Four attorneys participated in the closing argument to the jury. They were William J. Gunter and Frederick A. Puderbaugh, both of this city, for the state, and William C. Walsh, this city, and W. Dwight Stover of Oakland, for Smith. William O. Treacy of Oakland also was an attorney for the defendant in the condemnation case.

Witnesses for the state testified Monday that the value of the land at stake was in the negighborhood of $50,000 to $55,000. The verdict amounts to about $1,280 per acre.

Bicentennial Is Theme At Rotary Meet

Cumberland's Bicentennial furnished the theme for yesterday's meeting of the Rotary Club in Central YMCA.

A small group of Rotarians was dressed in Union Army uniforms of the Civil War period with President John E. Geare presiding in the role of General Ulysses S. Grant.

A short talk on sidelights of the Bicentennial goodwill tours was given by A. T. Brust Jr., managing editor of The Cumberland News, who pointed out that the touring groups visited 84 cities in four states. Purpose of the tours was to invite the people of the various communities to attend the Bicentennial celebration and to acquaint them with the advantages Cumberland offers.

Two young women, Miss Leone Saeli and Miss Sue Mullan, who represented Mayor Roy W. Eves on several of the tours as his personal emissaries, spoke briefly regarding their experiences.

Miss Mary Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, in another brief talk, appealed to the Rotarians for their cooperation in getting 10,000 books for the library for the use of teenagers. H. D. Barber of Rotary, indicated that the club will lend its support to the effort.

Tom V. Litzenburg, a Rotarian and a member of the publicity division of the Bicentennial Committee, was in charge of the program.

Visitors were Robert Winebrenner, Columbus, Ohio; Robert Jones, Frostburg; Charles W. Hagerstrand, Monessen, Pa.; D. A. Leonard, Martinsburg, W. Va., and John Buchanan, Altoona, Pa.

Injuries Fatal To Resident Of Crellin

John S. Jones, 59, Falls From Vehicle

A 59-year-old resident of Crellin, who sustained serious internal injuries in a highway accident August 11 near Oakland, died at 11:05 a. m. yesterday in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

The victim was identified as John Simpson Jones. Maryland State Police said they were notified about the accident on the following day.

They said the mishap occurred about a mile and a quarter west of Oakland on State Route 20. Police said Jones, who was crippled in both legs, was operating his vehicle with hand controls.

As he was negotiating a curve, he apparently lost control of the vehicle and fell out on the highway. The rear wheel of the vehicle was reported to have passed over his abdomen, causing serious internal injuries.

He was admitted to the hospital where he reportedly remained semi-conscious until his death. Cause of the mishap was not known, police said. No one else was injured in the mishap which occurred at 10:30 p. m. August 11.

Investigating officer was Tfc. Blair J. Buckle. The body is at the Bolden Funeral Home in Oakland.

Vice presidents of three local banks have been selected as judges in the guessing contest being sponsored during Bicentennial Week by the Cumberland Brewing Company.

G. William Bibby, president and general manager of the Old Export firm, yesterday said Thomas L. Keech of the Liberty Trust Company, Harry C. Landis of the First National Bank and John H. Bibby said no one knows the number of crowns in the container since three different persons helped fill it. The decision of the judges will be final, and in the event of a tie the award will be divided. The contest will close Saturday and entries must be postmarked no later than 6 p. m. that day, Bibby said.

War Hero Offers Message To Youths

Rep. Devereux Guest In City

A mild-mannered little man who helped write a bright new page of history on a tiny Pacific atoll at the beginning of World War II came to Cumberland yesterday for the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration with a special message for the young men of today.

He is General James P. S. Devereux, who since January 1951 has represented the Second Congressional District of Maryland in the United States House of Representatives.

"When George Washington came to this area at an age of 21 he readily assumed responsibility," Congressman Devereux said. "He had a realization of the enemy he was facing primarily because the enemy was so near to him he could see him every day.

"Today, too many young men are blase about their military responsibilities, primarily because they have the mistaken idea that the enemy is far away. The development of the atomic and hydrogen bombs has eliminated these distances as barriers in any future conflict and young men should not

The Pigtail League All-Star game got under way at 2 p. m., and resulted in a third victory for the Southern Division, by a 11-5 score.

Arizona Donn and Ella Mae and Dusty Shaver, local radio stars, entertained the children in the early afternoon with a program of songs, dances and music.

Over 150 prizes were awarded during the picnic events and gifts were presented to children who participated in the playground parade at 5:30 p. m.

Led by a police escort, the playground parade featured music by the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers Post 153, American Legion.

"The Good Old Days"

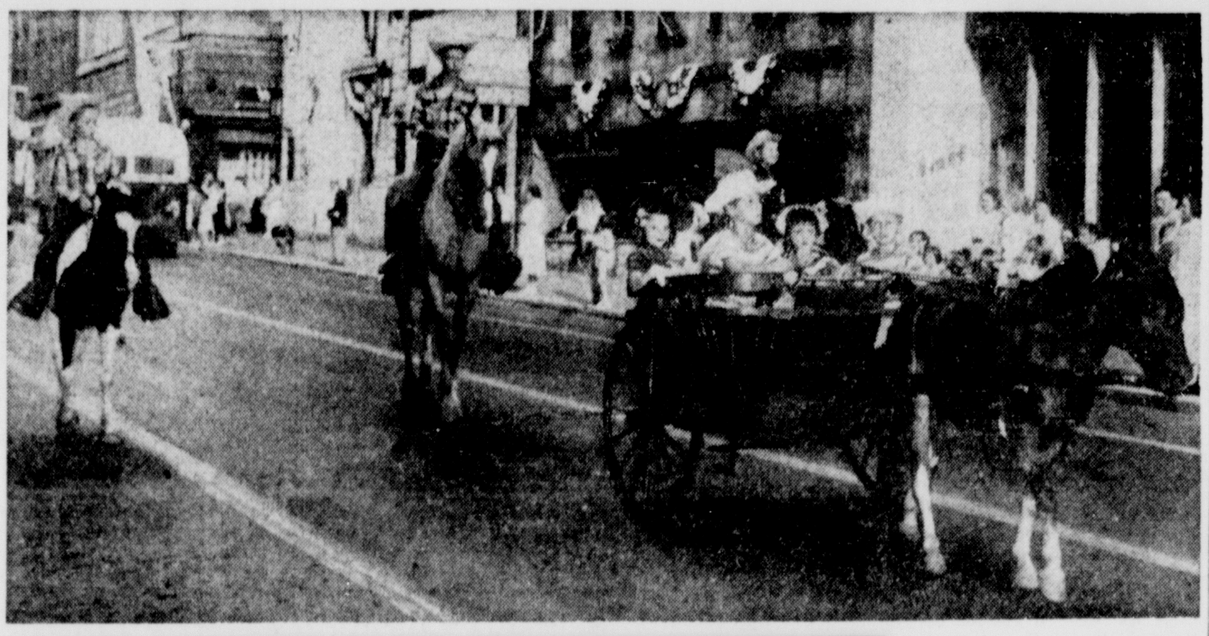

The good old days were featured in the pony-drawn cart containing little Mary Jane Barnard and Cornelia Sykes and their costumed escorts.

Then followed a delegation of children, dressed in costumes of the past 200 years.

Some of the lads wore beards which would have been the envy of their older Brothers of the Brush, and the petite dresses and bonnets worn by the girls would provide stiff competition in the style show planned Thursday on Belles and Brush day.

The Indians who made their homes here some 200 years ago would have applauded several of the diminutive braves—and envied one Indian mounted on a bike.

Youth Parade

Youth Leaders Honored At Bicentennial

Over 3,000 Thrilled By Big Pageant

The Fort Cumberland Bicentennial last night honored the outstanding youths of this city in a ceremony preceding the second performance of "Redskins and Redcoats," presented at Fort Hill Stadium before more than 3,000 spectators.

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, was master of ceremonies at the program and presented the youths, honored for leadership in the city's recreation program, to Robert M. (Lefty) Grove, Lonaconing.

Receive Certificates

Grove presented Bicentennial certificates to each of the youths, who received a tremendous ovation from the audience.

Greetings from the Eastern Shore of Maryland were brought by Rep. Edward T. Miller (1st Md.), who was introduced by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Rep. James P. S. Devereux (2nd Md.), introduced by Col. Randolph Millholland, cited that George Washington, while a young man at Fort Cumberland, accepted responsibility, as did the youths of that day, because they realized the danger from the enemy over the mountains.

Urges Preparedness

The ceremony honoring Cumberland's youth leaders provided a thrilling prelude to the spectacle relating the top events of past 200 years of the history of Fort Cumberland.

The second-nighters, estimated at over 3,000, provided an enthusiastic audience for the spectacle, which moved along smoothly to its fireworks climax.

East Side Plans Square Dance Tonight

East Side Playground will hold a square dance tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the playground.

Movies, the last of the playground season, are slated tomorrow at 8:30 p. m.

Plans are also being made to hold a wiener roast Monday. Those interested in attending should contact the playground leader.

Bank Is Co-Executor

The Second National Bank has been named co-executor of the estate of Mrs. Susan J. Lacey in Allegany County Orphans Court along with J. Joseph Carney, Hill Top Drive, a friend. In Monday's edition of The News, the co-executor bank was inadvertently listed as the First National.

Good Neighbors Day Today In Bicentennial

Special Programs Are Scheduled

The City of Cumberland today will honor citizens and officials of neighboring cities in connection with the Good Neighbors Day activities of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration.

Activities will include special programs citing the old Narrows Bridge and the new Cumberland-Ridgeley Bridge.

The visiting officials will also be honored at 8:15 p. m. at a pre-performance ceremony at Fort Hill Stadium, prior to the third performance of "Redskins and Redcoats."

A capacity crowd is expected at tonight's performance, based on advance ticket sales.

In a simple public ceremony at 10 a. m., a tablet commemorating the building of the old Narrows Bridge—part of the original National Road—will be unveiled.

The unveiling will take place in the small grassy triangle at the west end of the present bridge.

Miss Ruth N. Clauson, president of the Allegany County Historical Society, who will preside, said nearly all those who will participate in the program are descendents of people who probably saw the dedication of the original bridge in the 1830s. All parts of the county will be represented.

The program will open with old stage coach trumpet calls by Miss Margaret E. Thompson, who will be dressed in the costume of the period when stage coaches rolled along the old National Pike to and from Cumberland.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will welcome the group attending, and a representative of the State Roads Commission will be introduced.

Cynthia Leigh Gunter, escorted by C. R. Nuzum Jr., will unveil the tablet. Both will be appropriately costumed.

William C. Walsh, former chief judge of the Court of Appeals and former Maryland attorney general, will deliver the principal address, and Miss Thompson will close the program with stage coach trumpet calls.

A civic luncheon will be held at 1:30 p. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel to honor some 80 visiting and local civic officials and a delegation from labor organizations.

Mayor Roy W. Eves and the City Council will be hosts and Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, will be master of ceremonies.

Among the honored guests will be the girls who served as Miss Fort Cumberland on the good will tours made to area cities to deliver invitations to the celebration.

The George Washington Crossing ceremony will be held at 3:30 p. m. today on the site of the new bridge which is being erected over the Potomac River, between Cumberland and Ridgeley.

Franklin's The Name

This member of the cast of "Redskins and Redcoats," the Bicentennial pageant being presented nightly at Fort Hill Stadium, could be called a character actor—at least on the basis of his name. He's Ben J. Franklin, of 852 Greene Street. The fellow he's portraying is—naturally—Benjamin Franklin.

Keyser Closes Landfill For Garbage Disposal

A landfill operation of garbage and refuse disposal operated at Keyser, W. Va., has been ordered halted by action of the Mayor and City Council, and six city employes engaged there have been placed on other work.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Council of Keyser yesterday afternoon, according to Mayor John C. Freeland, council voted to halt the operation in compliance with a petition from Keyser citizens.

He explains that a couple of weeks ago, a petition bearing nearly 1,000 names of citizens was presented to the council, calling for the halt of the landfill operation due to the cost involved.

As a result of this petition, under state and local law, council must not spend money on the operation.

At the same time, there is a West Virginia provision which requires communities to dispose properly of garbage and waste material in some manner such as the landfill method.

Thus the town officials of Keyser are in a quandary.

The council served notice yesterday on all residents and business places that the landfill operation has been closed and there is now no community-sponsored method of disposing of garbage. The town does not collect its garbage, as this is done by individuals and private haulers.

With the closing of the landfill, haulers and individuals are again dumping in the Potomac River, in New Creek, and in outlying wooded areas. In fact, residents of the McCoole area say some of the Keyser garbage is being hauled into this

$72,850 Verdict Is Returned In Beach Case

Deep Creek Lake Suit Concluded

A Garrett County Circuit Court jury yesterday afternoon awarded Fulcher P. Smith of Oakland a $72,850 verdict for some 57 acres of beach front on Deep Creek Lake which the State Department of Forests and Parks seeks to develop as a public swimming and boating area.

The verdict, believed one of the largest in the history of the Oakland court, was returned after about an hour's deliberation. Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris of this city presided at the two-day trial during which widely varying values were placed on the land at stake.

The defense rested after presenting six witnesses, including Smith himself yesterday. They included Stuart F. Hamill Jr., attorney and real estate man; Cyrus V. Bower of Hyndman, Pa., who has been interested in the Turkey Neck development in Garrett County; Thomas Stevenson, a real estate man and school teacher in Oakland; Clarence Thomas, who has been employed in clearing land along Deep Creek Lake, and William W. DeWitt, the Garrett County engineer.

Real estate men called in behalf of Smith placed a value at more than $100,000 on the approximately 4,700 feet of lake frontage.

DeWitt testified that there is a county road in back of Smith's property and the county has plans for its improvement as soon as there is real estate development in the area.

Four attorneys participated in the closing argument to the jury. They were William J. Gunter and Frederick A. Puderbaugh, both of this city, for the state, and William C. Walsh, this city, and W. Dwight Stover of Oakland, for Smith. William O. Treacy of Oakland also was an attorney for the defendant in the condemnation case.

Witnesses for the state testified Monday that the value of the land at stake was in the negighborhood of $50,000 to $55,000. The verdict amounts to about $1,280 per acre.

Iron Workers To Meet

Local 568, Iron Workers Union (AFL), will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. in the AFL Labor Temple.

Bicentennial Is Theme At Rotary Meet

Cumberland's Bicentennial furnished the theme for yesterday's meeting of the Rotary Club in Central YMCA.

A small group of Rotarians was dressed in Union Army uniforms of the Civil War period with President John E. Geare presiding in the role of General Ulysses S. Grant.

A short talk on sidelights of the Bicentennial goodwill tours was given by A. T. Brust Jr., managing editor of The Cumberland News, who pointed out that the touring groups visited 84 cities in four states. Purpose of the tours was to invite the people of the various communities to attend the Bicentennial celebration and to acquaint them with the advantages Cumberland offers.

Two young women, Miss Leone Saeli and Miss Sue Mullan, who represented Mayor Roy W. Eves on several of the tours as his personal emissaries, spoke briefly regarding their experiences.

Miss Mary Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, in another brief talk, appealed to the Rotarians for their cooperation in getting 10,000 books for the library for the use of teenagers. H. D. Barber of Rotary, indicated that the club will lend its support to the effort.

Tom V. Litzenburg, a Rotarian and a member of the publicity division of the Bicentennial Committee, was in charge of the program.

Visitors were Robert Winebrenner, Columbus, Ohio; Robert Jones, Frostburg; Charles W. Hagerstrand, Monessen, Pa.; D. A. Leonard, Martinsburg, W. Va., and John Buchanan, Altoona, Pa.

Toll Gate House Open To Visitors

The old Toll Gate House on Route 40 west of Cumberland is open to the public during the Bicentennial. Visiting hours when hostesses will be on hand are from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily.

Several dozen persons yesterday visited the historic spot which is the last toll gate house still standing on Route 40 in Maryland, if not the nation.

Unless some steps are taken soon to preserve it, the property is to be sold and possibly torn down.

John S. Jones, 59, Falls From Vehicle

A 59-year-old resident of Crellin, who sustained serious internal injuries in a highway accident August 11 near Oakland, died at 11:05 a. m. yesterday in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

The victim was identified as John Simpson Jones. Maryland State Police said they were notified about the accident on the following day.

They said the mishap occurred about a mile and a quarter west of Oakland on State Route 20. Police said Jones, who was crippled in both legs, was operating his vehicle with hand controls.

As he was negotiating a curve, he apparently lost control of the vehicle and fell out on the highway. The rear wheel of the vehicle was reported to have passed over his abdomen, causing serious internal injuries.

He was admitted to the hospital where he reportedly remained semi-conscious until his death. Cause of the mishap was not known, police said. No one else was injured in the mishap which occurred at 10:30 p. m. August 11.

Investigating officer was Tfc. Blair J. Buckle. The body is at the Bolden Funeral Home in Oakland.

Bank Officials To Judge Export Contest Here

Vice presidents of three local banks have been selected as judges in the guessing contest being sponsored during Bicentennial Week by the Cumberland Brewing Company.

G. William Bibby, president and general manager of the Old Export firm, yesterday said Thomas L. Keech of the Liberty Trust Company, Harry C. Landis of the First National Bank and John H. Mosner of the Second National Bank have agreed to supervise the contest in which the person either guessing the actual number of bottle caps in the container in the window of Schwarzenbach's Store, or coming closest to the number, will be awarded $250.

Bibby said no one knows the number of crowns in the container since three different persons helped fill it. The decision of the judges will be final, and in the event of a tie the award will be divided. The contest will close Saturday and entries must be postmarked no later than 6 p. m. that day, Bibby said.

Eligible to participate are residents of Allegany County over 21 years of age, except employes of the brewery and their families and holders of alcoholic licenses and their employes and families.

War Hero Offers Message To Youths

Rep. Devereux Guest In City

A mild-mannered little man who helped write a bright new page of history on a tiny Pacific atoll at the beginning of World War II came to Cumberland yesterday for the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration with a special message for the young men of today.

He is General James P. S. Devereux, who since January 1951 has represented the Second Congressional District of Maryland in the United States House of Representatives.

"When George Washington came to this area at an age of 21 he readily assumed responsibility," Congressman Devereux said. "He had a realization of the enemy he was facing primarily because the enemy was so near to him he could see him every day.

"Today, too many young men are blase about their military responsibilities, primarily because they have the mistaken idea that the enemy is far away. The development of the atomic and hydrogen bombs has eliminated these distances as barriers in any future conflict and young men should not
